TELL ROOSEVELT PLAN TO EVADE WAR LOAN BAN

Maps Corporation to Provide Arms Aid.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—World attention will be riveted upon Washington tomorrow when President Roosevelt will take the next step in his war program aimed at the axis powers: Germany, Italy, and Japan.

The President will appear at a joint session of the senate and house at 1 p. m. [Chicago time] tomorrow to submit his report on the state of the union, as directed by the constitution.

He will go to the capitol about the time that the two houses complete their canvass of the electoral vote in the Presidential election and formally proclaim him the people's choice for a third term in the White House.

Expect Specific Plan.

The outline of measures to carry into effect America's contribution to the efforts of Great Britain, Greece, and China to resist the encroachment of the totalitarian powers will constitute the burden of the message on the state of the union. In this address the President is expected to present specifically his plan for aiding the foes of the dictators short of war which he outlined in general terms in his fireside chat a week ago.

In particular the President is expected to ask congress for legislation to enable him to carry into effect his project to lend and lease to Great Britain upwards of 3 billion dollars' worth of aircraft, tanks, artillery, and other arms and equipment for employment against Germany and Italy, both of which, together with Japan, Mr. Roosevelt declared, are enemies of the United States.

Greece and China and any other nations entering the war against the dictatorships likewise would be eligible to American aid on the same terms.

Johnson Act in Way.

Administration leaders in congress were advised that the President had under consideration a plan to create a government corporation which would handle the lending and leasing of armament to belligerents. The purpose of this device would be to get around the Johnson act which exempts government corporations from the prohibition of loans to a nation, such as Great Britain, which is in default in the payment of world war loans to the United States.

This plan is reputed to include provision for the government corporation to accept as collateral for part of the loans at least such stocks and bonds representing western hemisphere investments as the British government may choose to deposit.

Eye Neutrality Act.

While this device might technically come within the provisions of the Johnson act, administration leaders admitted tonight that it would still conflict with the cash and carry provision of the neutrality act. The administration is prepared, however, to ask amendment of the neutrality act to permit extension of credit to belligerents and perhaps also to permit American ships to carry arms into war zones and American naval vessels to convoy cargoes to belligerents.

Opponents of the President's lending-leasing project, assert that Great Britain stands in no need of financial aid at this time. British empire resources in the western hemisphere are conservatively estimated at more than 10 billion dollars. Of this amount nearly 5 billions are in gold and dollar assets, including 2 billions of central gold reserves, 1 billion in stocks and bonds of American industries, half a billion in short term holdings and 1 billion 200 millions in other investments.

British Gold Reserve.

In addition there are the British home gold reserve, the British gold production of 750 millions a year and the colossal assets represented by British manufactures and foreign trade. Then there are Dutch investments in this country exceeding 1 billion dollars.

The British are averse to liquidating their investments in this hemisphere which are the sources of income to the upper classes in England. To the extent that they are able to obtain loans in this country whether in money or in arms without making further inroads upon their reserve resources they will be the gainers.

During the world war the British deposited several million dollars'

FOUR IN RECENT CHUTE ESCAPE AMONG VICTIMS

Burned Craft Found on Mountain.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 5 [Special].—The bodies of 11 navy flyers, including four who parachuted to safety from another ship last Thursday in Texas, were found today scattered over a mountain top 35 miles southeast of here on which a twin engined navy transport plane crashed last night in rain and fog.

The ship exploded and burned after smashing against a huge boulder atop Mother Grundy peak, a 3,068 foot mountain. Lieutenant Commander Joseph H. Gowan, 54 years old, who was at the controls, missed clearing the peak by 30 feet. All bodies were thrown clear of the plane.

En Route From Texas.

The transport, a Douglas R3D-1, left Big Spring, Tex., early yesterday afternoon bound for North Island base here. Aboard were the four flyers who had parachuted Thursday from a four engined navy patrol bomber which ran into trouble in a snowstorm near Lamesa, Tex.; three members of a naval accident inquiry board which investigated the bomber's trouble, and a crew of four.

Ranchers near Mother Grundy peak reported that the transport crashed early in the evening. They heard the sound of the crash and saw a flare of light thru the murk at that time.

More than 150 soldiers, navy men, CCC members, and deputy sheriffs cut thru heavy brush to reach the wreck this morning. They found wreckage scattered over an area a quarter of a mile from the summit of the peak and all of the bodies lying within 150 yards of the mountain top.

List of the Dead.

The dead parachutists were Alfred M. Pary, 31, a radio man, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Lloyd J. Hughes, 30, radio man, of San Diego, Cal.; Frank Recke Jr., 30, machinist's mate, of National City, Cal., and Harold E. Neff, 34, chief machinist's mate, of San Diego. All but Pary were married.

The transport crew consisted of Lieutenant Commander Gowan, who saw service in the world war, of Coronado, Cal.; David E. Ferguson, 33, chief machinist's mate, of San Diego; Marvin Magee, 32, machinist's mate, San Diego, and Frank R. Naylor, 25, radio man, of San Diego, all married.

Members of the board of inquiry were Lieutenant Commander Stephen B. Cooke, 42, of Washington, D. C., commanding officer of naval patrol squadron 13 at San Diego, which will operate the six four engined navy patrol bombers just added to the navy air arm; Lieut. Victor S. Gaulin, 34, of San Diego, and Lieut. James C. Flemming, 36, of the medical corps, San Diego. All were married.

Fifth Parachutist Killed.

Pary, Hughes, Recke, and Neff bailed out Thursday at 17,000 feet, but a fifth parachutist, W. F. Percich, machinist's mate, was killed in his leap. The patrol bomber—one of the squadron to have been commanded by Cooke, who had been approved Friday for promotion to commander—was landed in a shallow lagoon by Lieut. M. Hanson, pilot, and R. B. Clarke, co-pilot, of the navy reserve, after they rode out the storm.

The transport crash was apparently due to the fact that Lieutenant Commander Gowan was off his course and had apparently begun losing altitude preparatory to an anticipated landing, not knowing he was near the mountain summit.

The caretaker at Barrett Lake dam, three miles northeast of Mother Grundy peak, reported hearing the plane flying low—"much too low for this country"—and Guy Haptonstall, rancher, said he heard the plane low over his house, then an "echoing crash," followed by a "flare of light."

Hear Motors Hesitate.

Navy officials said that Gowan apparently discerned the peak just before he crashed, for ranchers reported that the plane's motors hesitated, and then roared with sudden power.

Navy flyers explained that hesitation always occurs just before a plane takes full throttle, and that the ranchers' report indicated that Gowan had attempted at the last moment to climb over the peak he had suddenly glimpsed.

White Charges War Activity in Aid Allies Body

Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 5 [Special].—Warmongers in the New York and Washington chapters of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies drove William Allen White, Emporia [Kas.], editor, to resign the chairmanship, he said in a letter published here today.

White's explanation for his resignation last Thursday was written to John T. Graves II., columnist for the Birmingham Age-Herald, which published it in early editions.

"I tried to get out after the election because I felt this warmongering activity made this a full-time job for a younger man," White wrote. "I certainly do not agree with any one who wants to make a climate in which the war bug will grow.

Opposes Ghost Dance for War.

"In two of our chapters, New York and Washington, we have a bunch of warmongers and under our organization we have no way to oust them and I just can't remain at the head of an organization which is being used by those chapters to ghost dance for war."

The letter was removed from later editions of the Age-Herald. Editors of the paper said this was at the request of White. In Emporia, White refused to comment on the matter.

White startled his committee Dec. 23 with a signed, copyrighted newspaper article in which he said that the organization's only motive was to keep the country out of war. He added that if he were writing a motto for the committee it would be, "The Yanks Are Not Coming." White opposed the sending of convoys to Britain or repealing of the Johnson act which bars credit to world war debt defaulters.

Emmett Reserves Opinion.

In New York tonight, Christopher Emmett, associate of Clark Eichelberger, national director of the committe declined to comment on White's charges until he had seen the complete statement. He said the letter may have been prompted by White's "misunderstanding" of the attitude of the New York chapter. "We are not warmongers, and we do not favor war," Emmett said.

Other members of the New York chapter of the committee who have been outspoken proponents of "all out aid to Britain" include:

Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, honorary chairman of the New York chapter of the committee; Dr. Frank Kingdon, chairman of the New York chapter of the committee, who was born in London; Lewis W. Douglas, former director of the United States budget; Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for the so-called American Civil Liberties union; Dorothy Kenyon, a former New York municipal justice; Herbert Bayard Swope, former newspaper editor; Robert E. Sherwood, author and playwright; James P. Warburg, banker and author; Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt and Prof. James T. Shotwell of Columbia university.

In Washington, Livingston Harley, an officer of the Washington chapter of the committee, said that he is at a loss to understand White's letter.

"Of course, it is perfect nonsense," said Harley, "to accuse members of the Washington chapter or any other chapter of this organization of being war mongers. That is exactly what we are not."

Other members of the Washington chapter of the committee include Dr. Esther Brunauer, Msgr. John A. Ryan, Huston Thompson, and Robert J. Watt.

MOTHER AND SON DIE OF SUFFOCATION WHEN FLAMES ATTACK HOME

(Pictures on page 8.)

David Allerdice Jr.

Mrs. Allerdice's husband and son, David Jr., the latter a widely known Princeton university football star, were burned severely on their heads, faces and arms in attempting to rescue other members of the family. A third son, John, was away from home for the night.

The fire started shortly before 5 o'clock in the first floor apartment occupied by the J. S. Rosenstein family, all of whom escaped.

Allerdice Sr., is vice president of Kingan & Co., Indianapolis meat packers. He also was a noted athlete when a student at the University of Michigan.

David Jr., completed his collegiate football career last fall, having played half back on the Princeton varsity team for three years.

Cost of Living Up; Vatican Grants Salary Increases

(Picture on page 7.)

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 5 [Special].—Before the horrified gaze of her sister and a 10 year old niece, Mrs. Mary Jane McCarthy was shot and killed by her estranged husband, Willis McCarthy, today as she entered St. Andrew's cathedral for services.

McCarthy, carrying a shotgun, encountered his wife, an attractive 32 year old brunette on the cathedral steps. He fired one blast which struck her in the head and shoulders.

The wounded woman stumbled into the church and sat down in a pew near the door. McCarthy followed and fired again, killing her. He then dashed toward the altar, where William Horgan, 72 years old, made a futile attempt to seize him.

Captured in Alley.

McCarthy raced out of the church, waving the shotgun, pursued by Horgan and another churchgoer, Daniel Parsh, 24. A passerby, Conrad Hoogerhyde, 54, joined in the chase, and the three men cornered and seized McCarthy in a nearby alley.

Mrs. McCarthy's niece, Esther May Madigan, was slightly injured by buckshot. The victim's sister, Miss Katherine Madigan, was not injured.

The McCarthys, who were married seven years ago, became estranged six months ago. Mrs. McCarthy filed suit for divorce and recently obtained an injunction restraining her husband from molesting her. She charged that he threatened her, believing she was interested in another man.

Jailed for a Night.

McCarthy's attorney in the contested divorce suit, Roman F. Glocheski, said that McCarthy was brought into court about two weeks ago when Mrs. McCarthy complained that he had violated the injunction, and that he spent a night in the county jail when he was unable to post a bond. The couple had no children. She was his second wife.

Mrs. McCarthy was a district WPA supervisor. Friends said that her husband had made several attempts to effect a reconciliation.

McCarthy, 34 years old, is a soap salesman. A onetime amateur boxer, he is a nephew of former State Senator Ernest Conlon, who now is president of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

At the police station, where he was questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Menso R. Bolt, McCarthy said he could not remember the killing. "Everything went black," he said.

Rumania Shuts Borders; Reds Recall Envoys

(Map on page 4.)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 5 (AP).—Rumania was cut off from the outside world tonight as the soviet Russian ministers to four southeastern European countries headed toward Moscow for a conference with Kremlin leaders on the establishment of Rumania as a vast German military camp.

All international telephone communications with Rumania were banned. Fast international trains were stopped at the frontier.

Behind this wall of silence Germany's Balkan army was consolidating its position along the Danube facing Bulgaria, along the entire Russian frontier, and in cities within a few miles of Jugo-Slavia.

Reports brought across the Danube to the Bulgarian town of Russe [Rustchuk] said the German army is contending with increasing Rumanian disorders which began with widespread sabotage by railroad employés in the so-called "communist wing" of the Rumanian Iron Guard.

Report Reds Warn Berlin.

The four Russian ministers recalled to Moscow for consultation were those in Bulgaria, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania and Hungary.

It was reported in soviet circles that the Kremlin already has warned Berlin against a "step which might seriously endanger good relations between the two countries."

Before the communications ban went into effect, diplomatic reports from Bucharest said strong Nazi motorized columns had arrived at Giurgiu directly across the Danube from Russe with considerable bridge-building equipment and a large corps of engineers.

Rumanian railroad authorities were ordered by the Germans to keep the line from Bucharest to Constanta, Rumania's Black sea port, in perfect condition for possible emergency use.

Sow Mines in Danube.

Bucharest diplomatic reports also said the Rumanians, under Nazi guidance, had mined the Danube at Galatz, which recently has seen several frontier clashes between the Rumanians and Russians.

The presence of German troops at Arad and Timisoara, in southwestern Rumania near the Jugo-Slavia frontier, caused nervousness in nearby Belgrade.

However, German quarters in Belgrade were said to assert that Jugo-Slavia would be treated as "another Sweden if she behaved."

With 40 troop laden trains moving daily thru Hungary toward Rumania, the summons to the soviet ministers was the first concrete evidence of extraordinary Russian interest.

Soviet quarters in Belgrade declared the homegoing was linked with "new military developments in Rumania and Hungary and German troop movements toward Dobruja."

[Dobruja, a post-world war province of Rumania, lies on the Black sea, south of the Danube estuary which forms its boundary with Bessarabia, former Rumanian territory now ceded to Russia.]

Issue Warning in Bulgaria.

The call to the four envoys was said to have come shortly after the Bulgarian communist party distributed leaflets in Sofia saying that "soviet Russia will not allow a single German soldier to set foot on Bulgaria."

[Bulgaria is a potential avenue for offensive action either against the Dardanelles and Turkey or against Greece, which has repelled the armies of Italy, Germany's axis partner.]

Diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, said all Rumanian towns on the Danube facing Bulgaria in the 250 mile stretch between Turnu-Severin and Giurgiu had been emptied to permit billeting of German troops.

A connection also was seen between the journeys of the envoys and the current visit to Vienna of Bulgaria's premier, Bogdan Philoff, ostensibly to consult an eminent physician.

COLD WEATHER, SNOW KILL TWELVE IN ONE DISTRICT OF FRANCE

VICHY, France, Jan. 5 (AP).—At least 12 persons were reported killed by cold weather in the Auvergne district alone as a snowstorm today was followed by a drop in temperature in unoccupied France.

Snow reached 12 feet in the mountain areas and the thermometer dropped to below zero. In one area the postal service was interrupted for the first time in 22 years.

[Lisbon reports said that city and north Portugal again shivered under unseasonable cold and meteorologists predicted colder weather.]

BRITISH SMASH ITALIAN BASE IN 2 DAY ASSAULT

Capture Six Ranking Fascist Officers.

CAIRO, Jan. 5 (AP).—British troops captured the Italian stronghold of Bardia, Libya, today and seized more than 25,000 Fascist troops, it was officially announced tonight. The Italian commander, Gen. Annibale Bergonzoli, who is known to the British as "Electric Whiskers," because of his fiery red beard, was among those captured.

Arrow Locates Bardia.

"All resistance at Bardia ceased at 1:30 p. m. today," the high command communique said.

Another Italian corps commander and four senior generals were captured in addition to Gen. Bergonzoli who had commanded Italian legionnaires in the Spanish civil war on the side of the Spanish nationalists.

Many Tanks Destroyed.

"All stores and equipment are now in our hands," the British communique declared. "It is not yet possible to make a full count, but prisoners so far captured exceed 25,000. Among other booty captured or destroyed are 45 light and 5 medium tanks."

Capture of 25,000 Italians in the Bardia garrison meant that Marshal Graziani, the Italian African commander now desperately strengthening his defenses at Tobruk, 70 miles west, has lost some 80,000 of his force of 250,000 in one month's time, British military observers here said.

[The figure of 80,000 was compiled thus: 40,000 Italians taken prisoner at Sidi Barrani and in the western desert; 25,000 seized at Bardia, and 15,000 more killed, wounded, or missing.]

Italian Flag Lowered.

Dispatches from the front said the Italian flag on government house in Bardia was lowered at sunset—the first indication to observers outside the town that this last Italian post threatening the Egyptian border 15 miles to the east had been removed.

Australian shock troops preceded by tanks and supported by the R. A. F. began the final assault on Bardia two days ago. The Italians have been encircled and under land, sea, and air fire for the last 20 days.

British militarists said the victory was due to meticulous preparations made during the 18 days before the final assault. Australian sappers did vital work before the final assault launched at dawn Friday by their infantry. Night after night they slipped thru the darkness to locate antitank traps and mines. They blew up the sides of tank traps in order to fill them in, and exploded the land mines to open the way for the tank charge.

Italians Fight Desperately.

Two great gaps made in the outer Italian defense lines allowed free passage for British mechanized units led by a famous Hussar regiment. Running interference for the Australian infantrymen, the mechanized units pushed thru the holes, wheeled around inside Italian front line positions, and put them out of action from the rear.

The British said the Italians put up a desperate fight in this first stage, and most of the British casualties occurred on this first breakthru. The British, however, said their total casualties for the two day assault were slight.

By the end of the first day Australian brigades had penetrated the outer ring of fortresses to a depth of nearly two miles on a six mile front. British mechanized units went much farther the first night. Italian artillery fire grew heavy just before dawn Saturday, the British said, and Australian troops waiting for another charge were only 700 yards from the first Italian positions. Hard fighting thruout Saturday rolled back the Italians and resulted in the capture of additional thousands, dispatches said. Again the Australians did the major part in land charges and in cleaning up machine gun nests.

Fight with Bayonets.

Every type of fighting occurred, hand-to-hand bayonet battles, tank collisions, and machine gun duels.

By dawn Sunday the British com-

worth of American securities as collateral for private loans. After the war they liquidated these loans and redeemed the collateral. Similarly redeemed were large blocks of Latin-American-Egyptian, West Indian, and Australian securities.

No Security Given.

No security was given for the British borrowings from the United States government. The British pleaded they could not get the dollars to pay their war debt to the United States now amounting to 5 billions. They were able, however, to amass 5 billion dollars in gold and dollar assets in this country by the beginning of the present war.

British dollar resources are such that they could continue purchase of all arms the United States can produce for another year or two without feeling the pinch financially. Opponents of the President's program contend, therefore, that the plan to lend and lease armament to Britain is wholly unnecessary from the financial point of view.

Important to British.

The lending-leasing project, however, serves to commit the United States more deeply to the interest of the defeat of Hitler and Mussolini. It is of vital importance to the British government to enlist such aid from the United States at this time not only from the material but from the psychological point of view. It is important to the British at home and abroad to serve notice on Hitler and Mussolini that the United States is underwriting the war for their annihilation.

These are the reasons behind the campaign the British inaugurated last fall with the return of the late Lord Lothian to Washington pleading for American financial aid, followed by the dispatch of a British treasury official to lay the alleged British financial plight before the President. The campaign culminated successfully in the President's lending-leasing plan and in his fireside chat aligning the United States with the war to destroy the totalitarian governments.

BOMBER FLIES 3,050 MILES IN 16 HOUR TEST

Dayton, O., Jan. 5 (AP).—Buffeted by high winds and forced to alter its course because of icing conditions over Texas, a four motored army air corps bomber returned here today after a 3,050 mile nonstop, nonrefueling circuitous flight to Fort Worth and back at an average speed of 190 miles an hour.

Originally planned as a long range, high altitude flight at 15,000 feet or better to test the endurance of the six member crew, the huge B-17 "flying fortress" bomber was forced to fly much of the time at half that altitude because of cross winds that reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour at some points.

Before landing at 9:55 a. m. [Chicago time] it made another circuit over Columbus, O., Toledo, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, and Louisville, Ky.

BEARER OF NAZI PEACE PLAN ASKS SENATE INQUIRY

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—William Rhodes Davis, international oil operator mentioned recently as a onetime bearer to the United States of a Nazi offer to negotiate an "honorable and just" peace with Great Britain and France, said today he had asked a congressional investigation of "charges and allegations made against me."

Davis said that as a "patriotic American" who served with the A. E. F. in the world war, "I resent the inferences that I am engaged in any activity inimical to the best interests of my country."

7 GIRL VICTIMS ACCUSE PAROLEE AS SEX CRIMINAL

2 Freed from St. Charles Are Jailed Again.

Two parolees from the St. Charles School for Boys were in jail last night because they resumed their crime careers after they had been turned loose. One, a confessed sex criminal, has had two paroles. The other has confessed 39 burglaries.

Seven small girls yesterday identified the first parolee, Norman E. Smith, 18 years old, 1428 North Tripp avenue, as the one who had attacked them. Smith, who was arrested Saturday night, has confessed more than a dozen sex crimes. He is being held in the Austin police station.

Smith's record shows he has been paroled twice. He was first accused of sex crimes in 1935. Juvenile authorities sent him to St. Charles in March, 1936, for a two year term on charges of taking indecent liberties with children. He was paroled before he had served 18 months. On Aug. 6, 1938, he was returned to the school for violating his parole.

Quits Job After Release.

His father, Ray Smith, a WPA worker, said his son was paroled last Oct. 30 for the second time. He got a job in a foundry, his father said, but quit after two weeks because he was not satisfied with his wages of $22 a week.

The other St. Charles parolee is Horton V. Anderson, 18, of 807 North La Salle street. He was freed after serving 13 months of a two year sentence for burglary and was still on parole when he was arrested last Monday with two companions in St. Louis, Mo.

The two arrested with him are Oliver P. Forrest, 19, of 139 South Halsted street, and William A. Smith, 22, of 804 North Wabash avenue. All are in the Des Plaines jail. Anderson and Forrest, his companion in burglary, have been held to the grand jury. Smith is being held for federal authorities because he confessed he helped drive a stolen automobile to St. Louis.

Two Have Long Records.

Anderson and Forrest, who have long juvenile records, have admitted 20 burglaries in Chicago, 15 in Evanston, 3 in Des Plaines, and 1 in Normal. They were seized breaking into a gasoline station in St. Louis and were returned by Des Plaines police.

They had joked Saturday night about the way they had outwitted Chicago police, but yesterday Anderson said: "I guess it wasn't such a good idea to tell how those Chicago cops gave us a pass because we had honest faces. We can't expect any more favors now."

Park Policemen Robert Donner and Joseph Longo arrested the two Dec. 20 for speeding in Lincoln park. They were released with a summons to Speeders' court.

"I felt sure they were all right," Donner said. "Besides, it was only a few days before Christmas and I didn't want to be hard on them."

Driving in Stolen Car.

Forrest and Anderson admitted later the car had been stolen.

The law covering paroles for inmates of the St. Charles school was modified by the last legislature. Previously boys sentenced there by the criminal courts were subject to parole by the state board of pardons and paroles, and those sentenced by juvenile authorities were subject to parole by authorities of the school. Under the new law authorities of the school govern paroles for all inmates.

BARKEEP UNION TO VOTE TODAY; GANG DEAL TOLD

Police Detail to Guard Election.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

(Picture on back page.)

Chicago's 4,000 union bartenders will file into a courtroom today to vote—under police guard—for union officers. The election will climax the recent stormy history of the union, bartenders' local 278, whose leaders have been accused of being gangster stooges and which now stands ousted by both city and state labor federations.

Claude Maddox

Today's election will be in room 741 of the County building. That is the courtroom of Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne, who placed the union in receivership last summer when racketeering charges were made. Judge Dunne has said he will be present during the election and until all the votes are counted tonight. The voting will be from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Two New Developments.

Meanwhile there were two developments yesterday, both considered to have bearing on the election's outcome:

1. The Chicago Federation of Labor ratified the action of its executive committee in dropping the bartenders' union from membership.

2. Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, said he had learned that John Moore, alias Claude Maddox, a gunman and gangster, was the man who "made the deal" between George B. McLane, who is seeking reelection as union business agent, and James Crowley, candidate for union president.

Judge Dunne placed the union in receivership on McLane's charges that Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti had seized control of the organization. McLane charged that Crowley, present secretary-treasurer of the union, and Louis Romano, its former president, were stooges of Nitti.

Gilbert Tells of Deal.

"After pleading with authorities for protection from Nitti for himself and his union, McLane suddenly made a deal with Nitti late in November," Capt. Gilbert said. "He slipped away from his police guards one night and secretly met Moore, an old Capone beer hustler.

"I have learned that Moore promised McLane reëlection as union business agent if he teamed up with Crowley and agreed to save Nitti from conviction. McLane believed him and stabbed all his friends in the back and sold out his union. If Moore's scheme should be successful, the bartenders would remain cogs in the Nitti liquor and beer vending syndicate."

Nitti and other alleged gangsters were brought to trial in Criminal court on charges of conspiracy to seize the union. When McLane was called upon to testify against them he refused, saying he feared his testimony might incriminate himself. The prosecution of Nitti thus collapsed.

Ouster Considered Significant.

Gilbert said the action of the two labor federations was indicative of what union labor in general thought of the litigation revolving about the bartenders' union. The Illinois Federation of Labor expelled the union from membership three weeks ago, and the executive committee of the Chicago Federation of Labor followed suit. The action of the city federation committee was ratified yesterday by federation delegates.

The union has been the subject of public attention for six months. City and county officials, business and civic leaders, and labor chieftains and union members have watched what the Chicago Crime commission described as an experiment—the operation of a labor union by a court. It was said the procedure may set a precedent in Illinois.

HITS CAMPAIGN URGING SEAWAY AS DEFENSE AID

New York, Jan. 5 [Special].—The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce of New York today assailed the Roosevelt administration's attempts to place the label of "national defense" on the proposed St. Lawrence waterway and power project and urged Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and the state legislature to reaffirm New York's opposition to the undertaking.

Steps being considered in Washington to gain congressional approval of the project as an emergency measure without submitting it in the form of a treaty, which would require ratification by two-thirds of the senate, also were criticized in the report.

"No sound argument or evidence has been advanced to show that the St. Lawrence project is vital to the national defense of either the United States or Canada," the report says.

DRAG KANKAKEE QUARRY TO SEE IF AUTO FELL IN

Kankakee firemen dragged for hours yesterday in an attempt to determine whether an automobile plunged into a quarry in the 600 block on North Schuyler avenue Kankakee, late Saturday night. Oil on the surface of the pond, which is about 40 feet deep, bore out the belief of nearby residents that a noise heard Saturday night might have been caused by an auto smashing the protective fence and running over the bank. Sergt. Bert White of the police department said an object believed to be a car was hooked during the dragging, but lost. The work will be resumed today, and a diver may be sent down.

BRITISH CAPTURE BARDIA AND TAKE 25,000 ITALIANS

Seize Commander; Wreck Many Fascist Tanks.

mand declared, more than 15,000 prisoners had been taken and a remnant of Italians was holding only a small corner of Bardia's shattered defenses. The jubilant Australians already had fought their way into Bardia proper, and again formed the spearhead to riddle the last semblance of Italian resistance.

Half of the little white buildings in the town were wrecked. The Fascist headquarters was in ruins, but the government house was only slightly damaged. Only a small British company was detailed to hold the town. Most of the tanks already were rumbling out of the city to make ready for new operations.

Praise Italian Resistance.

ROME, Jan. 5 (AP).—Giovanni Ansaldo, authoritative Fascist editor, in a broadcast speech anticipating the British capture of Bardia, told the Italian nation today that Fascist resistance at that base had given time for the preparation of defenses westward in Libya. Ansaldo voiced the highest praise for Gen. Annibale Bergonzoli and his troops who defended Bardia.

The editor said the Italians had too much respect for themselves and their army to try to pretend that the loss of Bardia would be only a small victory for the British or try to characterize it as a strategic error.

"The habit of minimizing every enemy success is one which we do not like," he said. "If Bardia has fallen, this will be a new British success, local if you like, but still a considerable one and a sad piece of news for us.

"Whatever the fate of Bardia, whatever may be the hour of its fall, let these troops be thanked for the example they have given us."

NEW U. S. ENVOY REACHES VICHY IN MIDST OF STORM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Jan. 5.—Admiral William D. Leahy, new United States ambassador to France, arrived here tonight. His train came into the capital of unoccupied France on time at 11:58 p. m., despite one of the worst storms France has had in years. He was greeted by Maurice Loze, chief protocol officer of the French foreign office, officials of the American embassy and a police guard which usually turns out only for Chief of State Marshal Petain.

The ambassador and his wife went directly to a villa belonging to Frank J. Gould, wealthy American, which has been set aside as the embassy residence by the French government. Servants were preparing a late supper for them when they arrived.

Ambassador Leahy is expected to see Marshal Petain when he presents his credentials and a personal note from President Roosevelt on Tuesday or Wednesday.

ITALIAN RADIO CALLS BRITISH DRIVE A 'FIASCO'

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Italian radio said tonight in a broadcast picked up here that the British offensive in North Africa has proved a "fiasco."

"From the strictly military point of view, there was little if any reason for undertaking an offensive at all," the Italian radio was quoted as saying.

The offensive was undertaken because "it was calculated that if the Italians could be given a few hard knocks . . . Italy would be tipped over the edge into revolution," the radio added. "A few hard knocks have been given to the Italians . . . And the internal front of Italy not only has not collapsed but it has been strengthened. Consequently the great British offensive has proved a fiasco."

A JUST, DURABLE PEACE HIS HOPE, DECLARES POPE

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 5 (AP).—Pope Pius XII. said today there could be no foretelling where the march of events would lead "but our longings, our prayer, our wish is a just and durable peace and ordered tranquility for the world." The pope spoke to Roman nobles, among whom was his own Pacelli family, in an audience granted to them every Epiphany. He said a rich patrimony, such as the nobles enjoyed, imposed two duties: First the resisting of the temptation of an easy life and, second, the use of the riches largely for the advantage of persons less favored.

German Menace in the Balkans

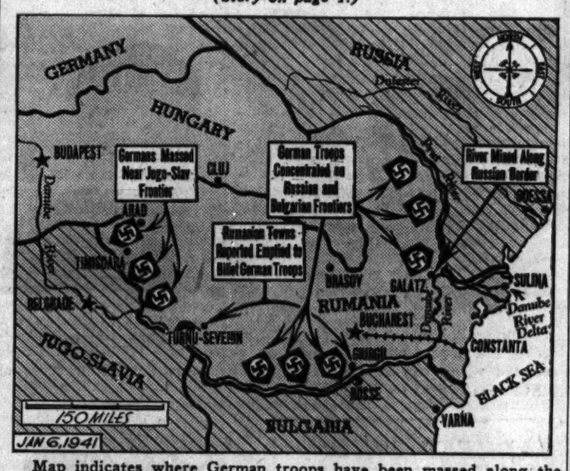

Map indicates where German troops have been massed along the Rumanian borders with Russia, Bulgaria, and Jugo-Slavia (diagonally ruled areas) in maneuvers which caused Russia to call home her Balkan ministers and Bulgaria to speculate over the chances for an early invasion.

NEW NAZI MOVES SPUR QUIZ ON AXIS AIMS IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 5 (AP).—The reported presence of a German secret police [Gestapo] organizer and a former military governor of Berlin in Mexico, along with recent pro-Nazi, anti-Jewish manifestations, was said by responsible diplomatic sources today to have prompted a new investigation of axis aims in Mexico.

These sources said there has been a shakeup in the leadership of Vanguardia Nacionalista, Mexican nationalistic, anti-Semitic political party, which has taken to disseminating its ideas at street rallies.

The immediate objective of Nazi-Fascist propaganda in Mexico was said to be a whispering campaign that the United States is about to enter the European war, taking Mexico in against Germany; and a drive to counteract the effect of Vice President Elect Henry A. Wallace's visit to Mexico by saying Mexico is being bossed from the United States.

NAZIS HINT THEIR PLANES MENACE BRITISH IN AFRICA

See Threat to English Communications.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—For the first time in weeks the German public is paying special attention to Italian war bulletins. The presence of German planes "at Italian bases" increases interest in developments in the Mediterranean area, be it at sea, in northern Africa, on the Adriatic, or in Albania.

Despite the fall of Bardia, the Germans believe that a further advance into Libya will become increasingly dangerous for the British in view of the presence of a strong German air corps in the Mediterranean.

Germans believe that a disruption of British sea communications between Gibraltar and Alexandria will greatly weaken the position of Britain in the eastern Mediterranean. British convoys to date have been able to sail from the western to the eastern Mediterranean thru the straits of Sicily, relying on aircraft carriers for their protection against Italian bomb attacks.

Cite Norwegian Successes.

The presence of German bombers, however, may completely change the situation. The Germans point to the successes they say their planes had against allied warships in the Norwegian campaign. Altho emphatically denied by the British, German airmen still insist that a British battleship was sunk off Namsos [Norway] by a single bomb.

Aircraft carriers, it is asserted, are especially vulnerable to air attacks. The Germans declare that the serious damaging of a warship by air attack is almost as harmful to the British as would be its total loss. The only British docks in the Mediterranean capable of accommodating larger war vessels for repairs are believed to be at Gibraltar. The docks at Alexandria, it is said, can only accommodate light cruisers and other small war vessels.

Sees No Blowup in Pacific.

While in recent weeks the importance of the three power pact among Germany, Italy, and Japan has been stressed in Germany, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today expressed the opinion that "the day for an armed conflict in the Pacific has not yet come."

"The European war has weakened England's position to such a degree that German warships are carrying on their trade warfare with England with greatest success," the paper said. "The United States gradually is becoming the executor for England in the Pacific."

BRITONS PUT OUT EVERY FIRE BOMB DROPPED IN NIGHT

Serious Blazes Prevented by London Watchers.

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP).—Men, women, and boys extinguished every incendiary bomb dropped on a London sector tonight by two waves of German raiders apparently attempting to repeat last week's devastating "fire raid."

The volunteers, apparently London's answer to official appeals for more fire watchers to prevent another terrific fire assault, fell upon the bombs as soon as they were dropped. Some of the volunteers chanted from the safety of doorways, "we want some more."

There seemed to be as many fire watchers as there were fire bombs, even tho the Germans were dropping them in this area by basketfuls. The "all clear" was sounded in the London area before midnight.

The Germans also were reported over Liverpool, the east Midlands, and northwest and northeast England.

Brief Daylight Alarm.

The night assault came after a brief midafternoon alarm in London.

The air ministry said a single "enemy" plane dropped bombs at a few points in East Anglia, damaging two places and injuring a small number of people.

German raiders concentrated their attacks Saturday night against a west England town. It was officially reported a number of people were killed there and others injured. [The Germans identified the town as Avonmouth, "an especially important port city for Bristol."]

Bomb Ships and Destroyer.

Two Nazi supply vessels off the southwest coast of Norway and a destroyer in the harbor of Brest, France, were hit by British bombs yesterday, the air ministry said today in a communique describing R. A. F. activities which included a raid on Hamburg.

Three bombs crashed on the destroyer in the attack which took place at dusk. In a later attack during the night a fourth bomb exploded on the ship's stern, it was claimed.

Fires were observed in Hamburg after the British raid there, the communique said.

BANDITS RAID GASOLINE STATION.

Two bandits took $67 yesterday in the robbery of a gasoline station at 3938 South Cicero avenue after locking the attendant and a customer in the washroom.

To Appear on W-G-N

JANE FROMAN.

Jane Froman, radio, screen, and musical comedy soprano, yesterday joined the stars who will be featured on the program In Chicago Tonight over W-G-N and the Mutual network from 7:30 to 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the W-G-N main audience studio.

Bert Lahr, Frances Williams, and Benny Baker, headliners of the comedy, "DuBarry Was a Lady," at the Erlanger theater, and Dick Todd, red haired radio crooner and recording artist, are the others on the program.

Miss Froman is singing at the Chez Paree. Before becoming a singer she studied journalism at the University of Missouri. A Cincinnati radio station owner heard her sing at a party, and gave her a spot on the air. Paul Whiteman later signed her to sing with his band. New York and the Ziegfeld Follies were next. Last fall she was a guest soloist with the Chicago Woman's Symphony orchestra.

BRITISH AIR RAID CASUALTIES 50,000 IN LAST 6 MONTHS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Casualties from German bomb raids for the six months beginning in June show that for every 9 persons killed 13 were injured, it was disclosed today. December figures are not released, but it is certain the total of 1940 raid casualties will be around 50,000. In December the provinces suffered more than London, but it is said the casualty figure will be less than for November.

From June to November, inclusive, air raid casualties totaled 47,115, of which 19,545 persons were killed. The highest casualties were in September when 6,954 persons were killed and 10,615 injured.

Air Chief Marshal Sir Frederick Bowhill, of the royal air force coastal command, gave this report of the command's activities for the year: "More than 2,000 convoys numbering 40,500 ships totaling about 200,000,000 tons were escorted by aircraft of the coastal command. The value of inbound and outbound cargoes averaged about $16,000,000 daily. The command flew about 34,000,000 nautical miles during the year."

BRITAIN DESIGNS PLAN TO SPEED UP FULL WAR EFFORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Important measures designed to speed up Britain's home front effort were announced tonight.

Two new ministerial bodies are to be set up. One will be a production executive group which will coördinate work of all departments engaged in war production and see that the nation's manpower is fully mobilized. The other will be a finance, trade, and export committee to frame the economic policy of the nation and deal with price control and such questions as imports and conduct of the economic war.

The men picked to control the new war production executive body are A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty; Lord Beaverbrook, minister for aircraft production; Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, and Sir Andrew Duncan, minister of supply.

GREEKS REPULSE ATTACKS; OCCUPY COAST POSITIONS

Report Italians Retreat Toward Valona.

ATHENS, Jan. 5 (AP).—Italian counterattacks in Albania were hurled back by the Greeks today with heavy Fascist losses and the Greeks succeeded in capturing new coastal positions, a government spokesman reported tonight. He said about 250 men and officers were seized in the day's actions.

The Italians, whose "stiff resistance" was overcome by the Greeks, fell back toward the important seaport of Valona, toward which the Greeks are driving, the spokesman added.

"The Italians abandoned in our hands about 100 prisoners, including a number of officers," the official said.

"Further northward, our units attacked, pushed their lines forward, and occupied new position. Among these was a height of considerable strategic importance. The enemy defended itself in this region stubbornly but was overcome and we took 150 men and 4 officers and war materials."

British Bomb Elbasan.

The royal air force issued this communique today:

"Highly successful raids on road junctions and other military objectives at Elbasan were made by bomber aircraft of the R. A. F. yesterday. All the bombs fell on the town and a large fire with a column of black smoke was seen to break out.

"Photos show many direct hits on buildings and a number of fires started. From all operations all our aircraft returned safely."

Capture Greek Arms.

ROME, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Italian high command, reporting on the war against the Greeks in Albania, today said:

"We captured arms and prisoners during actions of a local character. Our formations machine gunned and dropped shrapnel bombs on enemy troops in movement."

LA FOLLETTE HITS ROOSEVELT PLAN AS STEP TO WAR

Ex-Governor Asks Strong Hemispheric Defense.

Philip F. La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin, assailed President Roosevelt last night as the leader of the "war party" in the United States and asserted that the President's foreign policies will carry this nation into a war "so gigantic in size and so terrible in cost that our efforts in the world war will look insignificant."

Philip F. La Follette.

La Follette spoke under auspices of the America First committee over W-G-N and the Mutual network. At 5:45 p. m. today he will comment on the message which the President is to deliver to congress. This talk is to be carried over an N B C network.

"Headed for Nightmare."

"I wonder whether you are fully aware of the horrible nightmare for which we are heading—how close it is—what it will cost in the blood of those you love—how likely it is to snuff out the light of freedom for you, your children, and the rest of mankind," La Follette said last night.

He said that while it is not easy to forget the many assurances of Roosevelt that he will keep this country out of war unless attacked, there was a "time-bomb" in the President's speech a week ago.

"It is carefully hidden under the same old assurances about keeping us out of war. But read it! See for yourself. It is a clear, emphatic, and unequivocal statement that we shall make and deliver weapons of war in sufficient quantity to insure an overwhelming British victory.

Use of Navy Necessary.

"That means war. It means war because we cannot do what President Roosevelt proposes without convoying those freighters with our navy. War might come before, but the moment an American man o' war is sighted in the war zones of the Atlantic it will be fired upon—and of course, will return the fire. That is war in anybody's language."

Instead of taking the country into his confidence in his fireside chat and giving the nation the benefit of his official sources of information, the President failed to give a single fact which had not been printed in newspapers months ago or in a $2 atlas, La Follette declared.

He said Roosevelt gave no facts indicating any danger of attack on this hemisphere, and that the roots of his speech must be found elsewhere.

Recalls Warning on France.

La Follette recalled that after a trip to Europe just before the outbreak of war he called on the President and warned that France was likely to collapse soon after hostilities commenced.

"It is no breach of confidence to say that he laughed it off," La Follette said.

"So, now again I warn: There is a bloc of opinion in Britain, and in high places there, which has closer ties with Germany than with the United States. Never forget that as late as February, 1939, representatives of British and German industry met in Dusseldorf. There they drew up a trade treaty the substance of which was to 'gang up' and drive American trade out of Central and South America. Only the invasion of Czecho-Slovakia interrupted that plan."

There are rumblings in Britain similar to those that heralded the collapse of France, La Follette said. When history of these times is written, we will find that not only appeals but perhaps even ultimatums were pouring into the White House from England at present, such as came from France just before its fall, he said.

Return to Homework, He Urges.

"The President and his war party seek to put us behind the eight ball," he said. "They want us to believe that 'war to avoid war' is the only road to a secure and free America. That is not true.

"Get back to our homework here. Use the energies of man and nature to forge a ring of steel around the western hemisphere from the arctic to Cape Horn. Within that vast area uplift the life of every child of man—not by 'giving' a living which saps giver and receiver, but by guaranteeing every one a real opportunity to earn a living and to live a useful life—a life and a living that feed the spirit of creation as well as the body which houses it.

"That is the kind of an America that can whip Hitler and all he stands for—not a frightened America huddled behind the battered British fleet. America!—don't follow those preachers of fear and doubt who would take you down the road of France and Britain.

"Lift up your eyes and see America as she is—as she can be—not the arsenal of a dying Europe, but the arsenal of a living, fighting, and free America."

10 Jap Dive Bombers Raid Kunming, Burma Road End

KUNMING, China, Jan. 5 (AP).—Japanese warplanes bombed Kunming, terminus of the Burma road, today for the third time since the new year began. Ten dive bombers attacked the northeastern section of the city, inflicting about 20 casualties, all Chinese.

AMERICA FIRST LEADER SCOFFS AT NAZI 'THREAT'

Hammond Ridicules Invasion Fears.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the America First committee, ridiculed yesterday the talk that the United States is threatened by Germany, and appealed to Illinoisans to write their senators and congressmen demanding that they take a firm stand against efforts to drag this country into the European war.

"The proposition of invading the United States from Europe is fantastic, but the idea that it can be done persists," Gen. Hammond asserted. "Competent military experts don't believe it possible. They point out that even if our navy, already the most powerful in the world, were defeated, the invaders still would have to face American planes, mine fields, harbor and coast defenses, and finally the United States army."

Air Attack Called Suicidal.

He assailed the fostering of a belief that this country would be endangered by bombing raids. Aside from the fact that there are few military planes which can cross an ocean, let alone return home, he asserted that such raids would be suicidal because these bombers would be without protection of pursuit planes, which are short ranged.

Gen. Hammond stressed the problem of supplies in dealing with the claim that Germany could attack the United States from Brazil.

Transport Problem Cited.

At least 13 tons of shipping a month would be required to keep a single enemy soldier in fighting provisions, he said, making it essential to move 13,000,000 tons a month across the Atlantic for an army of a million.

"And," the general added, "when Hitler reached Brazil he still would be 7,100 miles from the United States—twice as far away as when he started."

Even if Hitler should take England, Gen. Hammond said, he would not attack the United States because "he would not try something he knew had not the slightest chance of succeeding."

"We must not let our common sense be swept away by our emotions as we did in 1917," he concluded.

BUTCHERS OPEN SHOPS ON SUNDAY TO AID BRITONS

Small Supplies of Meat Sold Out Quickly.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 5 —A meat shortage in many parts of the country because of reduced allocation to butchers by the ministry of food, made this a meatless Sunday for hundreds of British families.

At Brighton, butchers disregarded the Sunday closing law and opened their shops for a few hours this morning, but many customers still had to go without beef or mutton. The shops were opened because the town's week-end meat supply did not arrive until yesterday.

Government authorities were said to be taking a lenient view of the violation, one official declaring "this is a real emergency and we think the butchers did right."

Lines Before Many Shops.

A 50 per cent ration was reported in force at Hove. Any fresh meat substitutes, such as corned beef in gelatine, were quickly bought in many parts of the country. Lines were reported yesterday in many shopping districts of London until butchers posted signs stating they were sold out.

Six thousand cases of Seville marmalade oranges have been lying on the docks of a northern port since Thursday because of delays in making allotments to merchants by the fresh fruit department of the food ministry. Dealers complain that even if allotments were made hurriedly tomorrow "organization of distribution would result in a further delay of two or three days."

Issue New Food Rules.

The ministry of food issued the following orders effective tomorrow:

1. Reduction of the adult meat ration to 1 shilling 6 pence [about 30 cents] retail price weekly and children's ration to 9 pence [about 15 cents].

2. Inclusion of pork and less favored meat items [kidney, liver, and the like] in the meat ration. The new order adds pig kidney to the list previously announced.

3. Cancellation instead of detaching coupons in general and children's ration books by the retailer or by the proprietor of the catering establishment or institution where the persons reside for five nights or more.

4. Purchase of rations of bacon, ham, margarine, cooking fats, sugar and tea only a week in advance instead of two as heretofore.

Railroads also were busy hauling coal from Midland collieries. Taking advantage of the greatly reduced week-end traffic, they were said to have hauled 150,000 tons into London and southern England.

New Navy Bomb Target Boats on Way to Gulf

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 5 [Special].—Two steel-decked boats are on the way down the Mississippi river to the Gulf of Mexico where they will be used by United States naval flyers for dive bombing targets. The boats are as big as large motorboats and carry a crew of two men, protected by a steel turret. Black stripes are painted on the decks of the targets, at which nonexplosive bombs are aimed.

ULSTERITES LASH IRELAND'S STAND FOR NEUTRALITY

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Jan. 5 (AP).—The Ulster Unionist council, which stands for continued union with the British crown, declared that Ireland's neutrality is "deliberately prejudicing Britain's prospects of success in a struggle which means as much for one country as the other."

The declaration came in a report to be submitted on Thursday to a meeting of the Unionist party.

[Ireland, which has refused Britain use of bases on her territory, was attacked from the air several times last week and has protested to Germany on the grounds that some of the bombs, incendiary and explosive, as well as magnetic mines dropped on her soil, were of German origin.]

The Ulsterites' report said in part: "Our political opponents, despite the life and death struggle in which the empire is engaged, have seized every opportunity to urge expulsion of Ulster [Northern Ireland] from the United Kingdom and its inclusion in Ireland in the belief that Northern Ireland would be declared neutral and unable to help Great Britain."

The report recalled an offer by the late Lord Craigavon, governor general of Northern Ireland, to enter into closest coöperation with Ireland for defense purposes on condition that Ireland take a stand on the side of Britain and not raise any constitutional issue during the war.

Ireland's prime minister, Eamon de Valera, replied he had not the slightest intention of abandoning neutrality.

The Irish constitution envisages a union of all Ireland with the same sovereign freedom that now is Ireland's. Ulster with its 6 counties and Ireland with its 27 make up all of the island.

Baby Walker Teaches an Old Dog a New Trick

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 5 [Special].—For 10 years W. H. Tredennick was accompanied on hunting and fishing trips by his fox terrier, Betty. A month ago the aging dog's legs became paralyzed, altho her health otherwise was excellent. Tredennick copied an idea from a baby walker and built a device which supports the dog's weight and still allows it to pull itself about.

RAP POPULATION INEQUALITIES IN CONGRESS AREAS

Legislative Voters' Body Asks State to Act.

BY PERCY WOOD.

With reapportionment of Illinois congressional districts scheduled to be one of the major matters before the state legislature, which convenes Wednesday, attention was called yesterday to gross inequalities in the population of the districts as they are now constituted.

The Legislative Voters' league, in a pre-session bulletin, listed some outlandish figures to the members of the 62d general assembly, and reminded them again that Illinois still is electing its congressmen from districts which were carved out 40 years ago.

50 Downstate Counties Smaller.

One interesting fact brought out by the bulletin's figures on county populations is that 50, or approximately half, of the 101 downstate counties of Illinois have lost population since 1900 in the urban migration.

In 1900 all downstate counties had 2,982,815 population; in 1940 3,824,824.

Census figures from the 1940 enumeration have not yet been released for Chicago congressional districts, but an average of the 1930 populations would allow each of the 10 about 400,000 persons. The 1940 census figures are available for the 15 downstate districts which, altho not as much out of line as the Chicago districts, still range from a population of 162,384—in the 20th—to 381,985—in the 11th. An equal reapportionment downstate would allot each district about 245,000 persons.

The best arguments for reapportionment, the league's bulletin contended, are furnished by the smallest and the largest of the Chicago congressional districts.

One Casts 50,177; Other 449,954.

In the league's tables it was shown that in the smallest district, the 5th, represented by Adolph J. [half-a-congressman] Sabath since 1907, only 50,177 votes were cast for congressman last November out of a population which in 1930 was 140,481.

In contrast was the total of 449,954 votes cast last November in the largest district, the 7th, in the reelection of Congressman Leonard W. Schuetz. In 1930 the 7th had a population of 889,349.

No reapportionment will be possible until congress decides how many members are to be alloted to Illinois for the next decade. Because some other states have grown faster, Illinois is scheduled to have its congressional delegation reduced from 27 to 26. The legislature's job will be to create 26 districts instead of the present 25, elliminating the practice of electing any congressmen at large.

HAT SHOP BANDITS SOUGHT.

Police yesterday sought two colored bandits, one armed, who assaulted and robbed Peter Theriance, 50 years old, owner of a hat shop at 7 North Damen avenue, of $150 Saturday night.

4 HOLDUPS YIELD GUNMAN ONLY $1; HE GIVES IT BACK

An intoxicated gunman, described as about 35 years old, last night staged four north side holdups, got only $1 loot, and then returned the $1 to his victim.

First he entered the car of the Rev. John Craig, 5054 Catalpa avenue, in front of 4712 North Hermitage avenue, and ordered the minister to "start driving, and drive like hell." When the minister began to jerk the wheel the gunman struck at him and fled.

The robber got nothing from Mrs. Mae Garland in his second holdup. She rolled her car window up when he approached in the garage behind her home at 2907 Wilson avenue. He got nothing from Ralph Alberts, 156 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, the third victim, whom he approached in front of 4445 North Whipple street.

He then halted Mr. and Mrs. John D. Fulsang as they drove into the garage behind their home at 4518 North Richmond street. Mrs. Fulsang hid her purse. Fulsang gave up $1 mentioning they were returning from church.

"In that case," the bandit said, "here's your dollar back."

TWO FURNITURE SHOWS TO OPEN IN CITY TODAY

Furniture buyers from all sections of the country converged on Chicago yesterday for the opening today of two great home furnishings shows in the Merchandise Mart and the American Furniture Mart.

The Merchandise Mart reported an advance registration of 11,700, and Furniture Mart officials predicted that attendance there may reach a new high of 12,000. Both shows will last for two weeks.

New plastic furniture, with a surface said to be 70 times as strong as wood, impossible to scratch, mar, chip, or burn, is being shown for bedrooms, dining rooms, and living rooms. In it, as in most of the 1941 furniture, the trend is toward American styling.

DIES AFTER FALL ON STAIRS.

Hugh Watson, 45 years old, who lived in the relief shelter at 1426 Newberry avenue, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries suffered Wednesday in a fall down the stairs at the home of a friend at 1803 West 17th street.

W-G-N TO SALUTE HYDE PARK HIGH ON CITIZEN HOUR

Citizens of Tomorrow, the Chicago Tribune's radio salute to the youth of America, will return to W-G-N at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow after a two week holiday interlude. The program will be dedicated to Hyde Park High school. Six hundred students from the school and their principal, Joseph F. Gonnelly, will be W-G-N's guests during the broadcast. Gonnelly will discuss the school's rôle in the south side community.

The Hyde Park school chorus, conducted by Veronia Whelan, will sing. Blair Walliser is the producer.

Names of three more outstanding high school students will be added to the roll of honor. They are Kay Hopkirk, Fort Madison, Ia.; Jane Shook, Rensselaer, Ind., and Harriet Parmenter, Waukesha, Wis. The Tribune News Quiz will be resumed, with $5 in cash going to each winner.

IN A CIGARETTE THE SMOKE'S THE THING!

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU

EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, EXTRA FLAVOR

AND—

28% LESS NICOTINE

than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent laboratory tests of the smoke itself

"SMOKING OUT" THE FACTS about nicotine. Experts, chemists—and intricate laboratory machines—analyze the smoke of 5 of the largest-selling brands...find that the smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% less nicotine than the average of the other brands tested—less than any of them!

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

YES, the smoke's the thing! After all, you don't get anything from a cigarette until you've lighted it...until it's burning. And there is the secret of an advantage Camel smokers have enjoyed for years. For Camel's costlier tobaccos are slower-burning.

Slower-burning for more coolness and mildness—for Camels are free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning. Slower-burning for more flavor because slow burning preserves tobacco flavor and fragrance.

Now Science confirms still another advantage—Camel's slower burning means less nicotine in the smoke—less than any of the four other largest-selling brands tested...28% less than the average!

Yes, when you measure the pleasure of a cigarette...the smoke's the thing. Make Camels your steady smoke and enjoy all the advantages that only Camel's slower burning...costlier tobaccos can give. There's even an economy advantage (see left).

VICTORIOUS G.O.P. TO TAKE CONTROL OF LEGISLATURE

Party Set to Reap First Fruit of Election.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Illinois Republicans will start this week harvesting the fruits of their state victory in the election last November. The G. O. P. marches into the state house on Wednesday to take control of both houses as the 62d general assembly convenes. It will be the first time since the 57th assembly in 1931 that the party has had majorities in both chambers.

Arnold Benson [top] and E. J. Schnackenberg.

It will be five days later before the full harvest begins with the induction next Monday of Republicans who won five of the six constitutional state offices voted on at the polls approximately 10 weeks ago. But the cheering starts as the winning party takes possession of both sections of the legislative branch of the state government.

The Republicans, after six years of being the underdog in both chambers, regained control of the house of representatives two years ago, but during the last biennium were outnumbered in the senate 31 to 20.

Perfect Harmony Indicated.

All signs indicated that the start of the new regime will be one of perfect harmony. Dwight H. Green, governor-elect, is in accord with his party leaders in the assembly and the present plans for organization have his complete approval.

There hasn't been a single doubt expressed that Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, from the 13th district on the south side of Chicago, will be elected speaker or that Senator Arnold P. Benson will be chosen president pro tempore of the upper chamber.

The same certainty is felt of a frictionless agreement on the other organization posts to be filled. The caucuses tomorrow night will select a secretary, a sergeant at arms and a postmistress of the senate and a clerk, the chief doorkeeper, and a postmistress for the house.

The only other Republican post of importance to be filled is that of majority leader of the house, the man who leads the floor battle for measures backed by the majority. For several sessions it has been the practice to permit the new speaker to select the commander of the party forces on the floor and the practice is to be followed again this year.

Schnackenberg has said that he has made absolutely no commitments as to the appointments of committee chairmen or members and the same declaration is said to cover his naming of his majority leader altho there are several candidates in a highly receptive mood.

This session will open with 28 Republicans and 23 Democrats in the senate, or two more Republicans than the constitutional majority required for the passage of bills. The party division in the house shows 79 Republicans, or two more than a constitutional majority. Seventy-four Democrats were elected but one has since died.

Ward to Lead Democrats.

As for the Democrats, there is no agreed program for the senate side where a veteran leader, Senator Harold G. Ward of the Chicago north side's 31st district is conceded election as minority leader.

The house situation probably will not take definite shape until Mayor Kelly returns to Chicago tomorrow. The favorite of the Chicago delegation is Joseph L. Rategan [21st], but if Cook county yields to downstate the floor leadership may go to Timothy J. Sullivan [45th] of Springfield, a potent figure of former sessions.

Governor Elect Green and Gov. John Stelle, Democrat, will be guests of honor tonight at the Sangamo club's gridiron dinner in Springfield.

Walter J. Sandberg displays Heart association stamps.

Walter Sandberg spent the entire day yesterday writing letters to stamp collectors all over the United States.

To each he addressed the same plea: to contribute to the work of the Chicago Heart association by buying a $1 book of Valentine stamps. Just how much good the stamps do was attested to by Walter, who is 13 and confined to a wheel chair in his home at 4742 North Hamilton avenue, for he has been a ward of the association since a heart ailment curtailed his normal activity three years ago. Thru its annual sale of stamps the association hopes to raise $15,000 to battle the increasing deaths from cardiac diseases.

BILL WOULD BAN TALKING FOR PAY BY CONGRESSMEN

Speaking Tours a Racket, Author Charges.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—One of the tidiest rackets in congress—that of making speeches outside of congress for pay—may be abolished as the result of legislation introduced by Representative Usher L. Burdick [R., N. D.].

There will be some piteous wails from a small minority whose income will be affected by passage of the Burdick bill which proposes that a congressman accepting money for a speech shall forfeit his seat. But only about 15 "name senators" and not more than a dozen representatives, who are in the public limelight, are so in demand for their speaking services that they can command a stipend. The great majority will whoop the bill thru if permitted a vote by the leaders.

Fees From $100 Up.

The ordinary fee for a representative's speech is $100 plus expenses of travel. The utterances of a senator come higher. This price often is $250 and may rise as high as $500 in the case of a widely known figure.

All records have been broken in the last two years, however, in the case of the most widely publicized congressman of the period—Martin Dies, Texas Democrat, who is chairman of the committee on un-American activities.

Dies has made at least 50 speeches in the last year on the subject of subversive activities in the United States. Altho he refuses to make known the amount of his fees, it is reported that they have risen as high as $1,000 in the case of a 'packed' house. Dies' charges are sometimes reportedly based upon the size of the house, he taking a certain percentage and the sponsor, frequently the American Legion, getting the rest.

Some Write Books.

Dies also has made large sums out of writing books and magazine articles based upon information gathered by his committee.

Representative Burdick refused to name congressmen against whom the bill was aimed but said that many members were making "a perfect racket" out of speaking tours. In his bill, introduced yesterday, he proposed that both members of congress and government employés be barred from accepting payment for speeches. Violation would provide for vacation of their seats by congressmen and dismissal of government employés.

Perhaps the most notorious case of a "speech-for-pay" congressman was that of another Texas Democrat, Wright Patman, who was revealed as making 48 speeches for $4,800 under the auspices of the McKesson & Robbins Drug company. Patman spoke in behalf of a law by which, presumably, the drug company stood to benefit. The company was carried near to financial disaster thru the defalcations of its president, F. Donald Coster, who committed suicide when his swindle was exposed.

Questioned on the floor of the house, Patman said the speakers' bureau which hired him paid from $100 to $400 a speech and asserted he had made not more than $5,000 in any one year on speech-making.

"We get $10,000 a year salary from the government," remarked Burdick. "There is no reason any member should be paid an extra salary for roaming the country making speeches."

AIMED AT HIM, DIES SAYS.

Representative Dies, who spoke last night in the New Trier High school in Winnetka, told reporters the bill was aimed at him and his work, but that it did not apply since he made nothing but expenses from speeches.

"I'm for it," he said, "and will back it because I think it's a good thing. But I hope it applies to the President and his family. If it does I think it's a very good thing."

Dies added that when he first began his lectures he had announced that he felt it wrong for him to derive any personal gain. So, he said, anything he is paid above his actual expenses goes to a fund to promote Americanism.

In his speech Dies told an estimated 3,200 persons that America's fifth columnists are the best organized and best paid in the world. His speech was sponsored by north shore posts of the Legion in coöperation with the North Shore Sunday Evening club.

DIES IN HOTEL LOBBY.

Warren avenue police are seeking relatives of Adolph Dakowan, 81 years old, who died Saturday, apparently of a heart attack, in the lobby of the Hotel Coolidge, 2950 Jackson boulevard, where he registered Dec. 18.

HOW YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN FOR ONE YEAR AT A COST OF 5¢ A DAY

You can borrow $100 without endorsers or guarantors if you can pay back $9.77 a month for twelve months—Installments repay everything including charges which average less than 5c a day—Quick, friendly service

HAVE unusual expenses caught you short of ready cash? Have you old bills that you must get paid? If you have a steady job, there's a simple way for you to borrow the cash you need. You may then repay your loan in convenient monthly installments.

Suppose that you need $100. Find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payments you wish to make. Twelve monthly installments of $9.77 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost of your loan, in this case, averages less than five cents a day.

You may prefer smaller payments. As little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan. Note that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. You can borrow $25 for two months, for instance, for only 96c.

Simple to get a loan

All you do to apply for your loan is to acquaint us with your problem. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. It is unnecessary to bring friends or relatives to sign the loan papers with you. This spares you the embarrassment of asking outsiders to act as endorsers. We help you keep your money affairs private by not asking friends or relatives about your credit. Our service is planned so that you may borrow conveniently and simply—and repay in installments which fit your own income.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include all charges at Household's rate of 2¼% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Every customer gets the benefit of this rate—whether new customer or former borrower.

Fair Treatment

If you should get sick or lose your job while paying on your loan, we will show you every consideration. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Please feel free to phone or visit us at any time. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

We Wish our Friends and Customers

A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

WE'VE been staging our All-Star Show for you folks every week during 1940—helping you sell just about everything from cereals to cigarettes, from shampoos to shaving creams, and from typewriters to toys.

We must have done a pretty swell job because you're back with us stronger than ever in '41. The boss says we're going to have 60 per cent more ads in Puck this January than we had last year, and in 1940 The Comic Weekly led all "groups" in its field.

It's a big-time responsibility to entertain 12 million grown-up men and women, and millions of youngsters—to make 'em laugh . . . to make 'em weep . . . to give 'em a thrill . . . to keep 'em comin' back for more every week.

But we're used to it. Some of us have been in Puck for over 30 years.

We hope the New Year will bring you bigger sales and even more prosperity than 1929.

We'll do our part to help.

A STILL BIGGER ARMY AND WHAT IT MEANS.

A year ago the war department believed that an army of 375,000 men well trained and fully armed would be adequate to protect the country against any invasion. Six months later the President called for a mobilization of the National Guard and for conscription with a view to a standing army of perhaps 1,200,000 men. On Thursday the war department announced that it would ask congress to appropriate a supplemental 3 billion dollars to buy arms for 2 million men at once and provide manufacturing facilities to supply an army of 4 million.

It is true that the original estimate was made before the attack on Holland and Belgium and the collapse of France, but it is also true that the latest estimate was made half a year after Germany had seized every port on the continent which looks toward England. To reach America Hitler must cross 150 times as wide a stretch of water as has kept him from England and the military problem is much more than 150 times as difficult. He has few, if any planes which can fly to America and back with bombs and no fighters to accompany them. He has a negligible navy and nothing like the merchant marine which would be required to transport a million men and their supplies for an attempt at invasion. No responsible military man believes that even if England is knocked out Hitler can undertake an attack upon our shores until he has spent long years in preparation, years during which the Germans would have to forgo any of the fruits of their European victory, if they win it.

The probability of a successful joint assault upon us by Germany and Japan is scarcely better. The Japanese have a navy, but it would be severely handicapped if it tried to operate on this side of the Pacific. Japan is fully 300 times as far from America as Hitler is from England.

When congress receives the request for arms for 2 million men it is to be hoped that an answer will be demanded to the question: What are they wanted for? If they are not required for the defense of this continent, then where will they be used?

Perhaps they are intended for export to Britain and perhaps for the use of an American expeditionary force in Europe or Asia or both. In either case, American resources would be thrown into the old world to prevent a shift in the balance of power.

A balance established with our weight can be maintained only with our weight. The aggregate populations of England, France, Belgium, Holland, and the Scandinavian countries are growing slowly, if at all. The population of Germany is growing more rapidly and is already twice that of France or the United Kingdom. That suggests that if our arms, with or without our men, are needed in 1941 to check Germany's ambitions, our help will be needed not less but more in the years to come.

And that means that if we go into this war our effort will be wasted unless, after a million or more of our young men have been killed, we take a permanent place in the old world balance. That in turn will mean an enormous annual drain for a military budget and a huge standing army. It will mean that America will have embarked on a policy of foreign entanglements. No war will be too small or too remote for us to fight. Every big war will be ours.

Will America gain from such a reversal of policy? We sought to adjust the balance in Europe in 1917, thinking that the job once done would stay done. It didn't. There is no reason to suppose that we can do better in 1941. It is no exaggeration to say that the issue raised by the new army estimates is a critical one for America's future. The 3 billions now to be asked may be a pledge of future aid and future wars without end.

FOR A FIREWORKS LAW.

The celebration of the Fourth of July in 1940 resulted in more or less serious injury to 111 persons in Chicago and to scores of others outside the metropolitan area. The year before the toll in Chicago alone was 91. This year, unless the Illinois legislature takes action, it can be predicted confidently that there will be another hundred, most of them children, who will be injured by explosives in this city. Some of the youngsters will have their eyes blown out. Some of them will suffer the loss of fingers. Most of them will be scarred for life.

It is against the law to sell fireworks in Chicago and in more than a hundred other municipalities in the state. So far as Chicago, at least, was concerned, the ordinance was well enforced in 1940 and reports from other communities told much the same story, but it was not against the law to set up a stand for the sale of fireworks outside the city limits and it was from these stands that the youngsters got their supplies.

What was lacking was a state statute forbidding the retail sale of fireworks anywhere in Illinois. Indiana has such a law and so have Iowa and Michigan among other states. If Illinois will join them there should be a sharp reduction in the annual July 4 toll, otherwise it may be expected to continue and perhaps even to increase as the years go by.

The proposed law does not forbid public displays of fireworks, provided they are set off by competent and responsible persons under conditions which provide reasonable safeguards against personal injury and property damage. The bill does outlaw the sale of firecrackers, rockets, and all the other potential killers and maimers to all the big and little Toms, Dicks, and Harrys anywhere in Illinois.

The proposal has the indorsement of many organizations, including the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, which has a long record of public service. This society has sent an inquiry regarding the bill to 408 mayors of cities and towns in Illinois with populations of over 1,000. Replies have been received from 169 of them, of whom only five have expressed opposition to state-wide regulation. The vast majority believe that the local ordinances should be reinforced along the lines suggested. It is impossible to believe that there is any substantial sentiment in the state which opposes the bill and every reason to know that the people of Illinois are overwhelmingly in favor of a saner Fourth.

TWO BILLIONS UNEMPLOYED.

The statements of Chicago banks published in Saturday morning's TRIBUNE showed that during 1940 there had been further expansion in the banking resources and deposits of this community. The increase in deposits in a year amounted to 440 million dollars. Those who keep their money in Chicago banks have 2½ billion dollars more than they had in 1932 and a billion and a quarter more than they had in 1929.

Chicago has greater facilities for financing industry than ever before, but these facilities are not being used. Twenty years ago bank resources here were little more than two-fifths of what they are today, but at that time the loans of the banks were nearly twice as large as they now are. There is widespread unemployment of capital in Chicago.

The extent of the unemployment of Chicago money is not generally understood. Before the boom which preceded the depression loans of the banks averaged about 70 per cent of the deposits and at times rose to 90 per cent. Deposits now exceed 4 billion dollars. Seventy per cent of that is 2 billion 800 million dollars. That is what the loans of the Chicago banks ought to be now, on the basis of the relationship which existed before the depression and before the boom. But tho they increased a little bit in 1940, loans are now only a little above 800 million dollars. Two billion dollars is out of work in Chicago.

When money is not employed at its regular job in industry men are unemployed. When money is out of work real estate values are low. When money is unemployed the usual promotions do not take place, the regular salary advancements are not enjoyed, and the boy out of school doesn't have the opportunities his father had.

When money is unemployed it is left at the banks and they in turn are willing to let the government use it for little or nothing. The six big loop banks at the end of last year reported that only 607 million dollars was at work in industry and business. They let the government borrow $1,292,000,000 and even then had nearly 2 billions in the form of cash.

The President has from time to time pointed to the low rate of interest at which the government has been able to borrow as evidence of the success of his administration. It really is one of the clearest indications of the failure of the administration to promote the private employment of capital, which must precede the private employment of labor. Large numbers on relief are one indication of industrial stagnation. Low interest rates are another indication of the same thing.

ARMS FOR JAPAN.

Alfred Edwards, a Laborite, made a stir in parliament when he disclosed that he had written to Prime Minister Churchill asking an explanation of the British production of war goods for the Japanese army. He said that the workers in some of the factories, learning that the material was for that purpose, were threatening to strike in protest.

Lord Beaverbrook's London newspaper, the Daily Express, took up the parliamentary incident and remarked that "there is a strong feeling that the board of trade will revoke the export license" for goods turned out in the British factories for the Japanese army. Mr. Edwards took notice of the suggestion that the trade was justified by the need of foreign currency. That excuse he called disgusting.

Some attention also is given to the possibility that the American people might not understand the supplying of Japan's army or view it in a favorable light. Some Americans certainly will think it is a bit thick for the British to urge a willing American government to put all American war supplies at their disposal and then use some of their own to strengthen an axis partner who is threatening to turn his guns on America.

Our arsenals are being denuded of all usable arms to help the British, and Mr. Roosevelt, altho telling Omaha, Topeka, and Emporia that they can be bombed, is diverting the present factory output of planes, guns, and other war material to the defense of Great Britain.

Japan, with a good deal of bluster, has said that the question of war or peace depends upon the character and the extent of American intervention in Europe. Because the United States has come to the assistance of the British Japan pledges its aid to the Germans against America. British material produced in war factories at a time of great home emergency, not for the British forces but for an Asiatic enemy, may be used against Americans drawn into a war by giving aid to Britain.

TRADITION IN FOOD.

[Detroit News.]

The settler in the wilderness needn't invent a better mousetrap to bring the world to his door. He can offer a better cup of coffee or a steak properly grilled, or do things out of the ordinary with a sea food dish. If he keeps at it, the indefatigable American traveler will find him, and carry his fame abroad. His fame may even survive him.

To say that Gaston A. Alciatore died this week in New Orleans conveys nothing, unless it is explained that he was the last surviving son of Antoine, the restaurateur. Then thousands will recall the latter's name, and its ambrosial connotations of grilled pompano and souffle potatoes and oysters Rockefeller, the specialties of the house. Whether others do these things as well we never knew. At any rate, the accumulated tradition of a century is a concomitant in dishes in the Antoine repertory, to lift them apart. The hungry customer arrives with his mouth watering, and Antoine's has only to see that he is not let down.

VERSES OF WAR AND PEACE.

A contributor reacts to the bombing of historic buildings in London with a request for the reprinting of "A Chant of Love for England," written in 1915 but more prophetic of the present war than of the last. For example, these lines:

Pry the stone from the chancel floor—
Dream ye that Shakespeare shall live no more?
Where is the giant shot that kills
Wordsworth walking the old green hills?

We will not reprint, since the column hews to a policy of new stuff, but will refer the curious to the Houghton-Mifflin "War Treasury," volume 1, and also to "Harvest Home," by Helen Gray Cone. These verses were written when she was head of the English department of Hunter college, New York, as an answer to the famous German war poem, "A Chant of Hate Against England," by Ernst Lissauer. [See "The Home Book of Verse" for the latter, English translation by Barbara Henderson and original text.]

"A Chant of Love for England" was first printed in the Atlantic Monthly. Prof. Cone retired from the faculty of Hunter college in 1927, and died in 1934.

Since this is Twelfth Day, when the Three Wise Men arrived at Bethlehem, we'll celebrate it by telling about the authorship of the jingle, "'Twas the night before Christmas." [The correct title is "A Visit from St. Nicholas."] These familiar verses were written in 1823 by Clement C. Moore, a New Yorker more proficient in ancient Greek and Hebrew studies than in poetry. His purpose was to amuse his own children, but a guest in his home recorded the ditty in her memory book, and then sent it to the Troy [N. Y.] Sentinel, where it was promptly published, anonymously. This paper reprinted it in several successive years as a newsboy's greeting card.

TO A CRITICAL DAUGHTER.

Perhaps my words are trite; my thoughts so grooved,
That on the record of my life the strain
Repeats itself. These things have ever moved
My heart: the dawn-fringed sky, the dripping rain
On pine wood's needles and the brush of wings
Within my lilac bush. Your caustic words
Are harsh flails to a trembling heart that sings
Only the humble songs of trees and birds.
I never meant to breathe the symphonies
Of proud, majestic odes that stir the mind;
But satisfied with earth's sweet subtleties,
I find my dreams of quite another kind—
Not laurel-twined, but just brief hours well spent,
Expressive hours that leave me blessed, content.

A Relic of Better Days in Drama.

On the trail of another lost drop curtain which in its day graced the stage of the Grand Opera house, I called on William Schroud, chief carpenter of the theater. Oldtimers will recall the magnificent painting of the Grand canyon by Walter W. Burridge, scenic artist of the playhouse, then under the able management of the Hamlins, Harry L. and Frederick R. Impressive in size and details of execution, it showed this scene in all its pictorial splendor.

Mr. Schroud escorted me to the north wall of the stage, the only portion of the original theater [built in 1871] left untouched when the house was rebuilt under the management of George M. Cohan. There hangs a portion of the old paint frame on which Burridge and his associates hung their huge canvases, producing, aside from this famous curtain, settings and scenery for many important productions. I met Harness Smith, an oldtime stagehand who had watched these masters of the brush in this land of make-believe.

SONG OF THE BACHELORS.

After the year that we've been thru,
Ah, Freedom! Here's a toast to you!
Now Leap Year's over, we don't care,
Tho sometimes it seemed quite unfair;
Both calendar and government
With matrimonial intent.
They tried conscription; we withstood.
We fiercely clung to bachelorhood.
They tried a lot of other things
All pointing toward engagement rings,
But to ourselves we grimly said,
"Hold steady, boys, don't lose your head.
Stand firm, don't bolt, and don't act rash,
Don't swallow all their balderdash."

And so, 'til '44, we're free;
But yet . . . well . . . do we want to be?

KEEP THE INDOOR AIR MOIST.

THE question is often asked, in what way does the parched, hot atmosphere of our winter homes influence health? It has been shown rather conclusively that when a cold comes on we can save ourselves much suffering by breathing steam laden air. But can we avoid respiratory troubles by keeping our living quarters more humid? The answer appears to be yes, if the experience of many physicians can be relied upon.

While prolonged exposure, followed by chilling, may lead to indisposition, a similar reaction may manifest itself with the indoor reading at 70 degrees Fahrenheit and the humidity at zero.

Air demands water and it will take it from plants or even from the skin. But the process of evaporation requires heat. We use this principle in the torrid season to induce comfort thru the aid of numerous tepid plunges. Our fevered brows are soothed as we oblige the surrounding air to dry our bodies. We can understand this clearly if we will place a drop of alcohol on the back of the hand. The ensuing sensation of "cold" is exactly what happens when the fluid is lost from the tissues.

We can go a long way in preventing coryza by increasing the humidity. If the heating apparatus will take care of this factor, well and good. If not, we can provide it via well soaked house plants or pans placed near registers. An open kettle on the kitchen stove will help a little. Mechanical devices are now so well developed that modern home heating units include this vital adjunct.

Many will recall that just before a cold breaks the nose feels dry. Then comes a slight soreness. This is the time to breathe water vapor, medicated with a soothing compound such as oil of eucalyptus or menthol. But if the malady is on in full force, a hot bath is remedy number one. Here, one may recline for 20 to 30 minutes with the room saturated with steam. During this interval the nasal mucous membranes will soften, the blood vessels will become engorged, and the outflow of secretions will be aided.

After a quick rub with the towel, and dressed in a robe, a sprint can be made for the bed. The sheets may be well warmed with one or two hot water bottles. Enough covering should be employed to continue the mild perspiration which was started in the tub. If needed, a sedative may be taken. In the meantime a steam kettle may produce enough fumes to maintain the membranes in normal condition.

Considerable misunderstanding exists about ventilation. The sleeping chamber should be fresh but not icy. The temperature during the night need not drop below 60 to 65 degrees and there is no harm in keeping it at 70. Many of us adults—like children—will toss about during slumber and a portion of the body may be exposed for quite some time before we waken to the realization that we are shivery. This would not occur were the thermometer reading at "comfort."

Washing the nasal passages with strong chemicals is not advised, but a weak solution of salt may be beneficial. The fluid is introduced under very little pressure, with the head bent forward and the nozzle of the syringe directed backward along the floor of the nostrils.

Stay away from people with the "sniffles" or who are barking millions of germs for 6 to 8 feet about them. This means that with a beginning infection one has no business frequenting the theater or mingling with large groups. Since these episodes usually begin in the nose, the object is to keep them there and not permit complications to arise because of indifference or neglect.

OXYGEN DEFICIENCY.

F. I. writes: Gas heaters and open fires consume oxygen. So do the occupants of a room. Why do not more of us develop symptoms of a deficiency in our tightly closed houses?

REPLY.

Fresh air containing oxygen leaks in via a thousand unseen cracks. One can sleep all night in a bedroom with windows closed and still suffer no lack of oxygen. An open fireplace dispatches hot air up the chimneys. This is replaced, otherwise a partial vacuum would be created. An actual lack of vital air may be detected by the appearance of blueness of the lips, the tips of the fingers, etc. Furthermore, all functions of the body become depressed.

Open flame gas heaters for a bathroom or other small enclosures are rarely used. They may be dangerous—not only because they consume the oxygen but if leaks develop carbon monoxide may be liberated.

EFFECT OF NARCOTICS.

A. B. writes: I say that a drug addict loses his mind in time, as his brain becomes deadened. My friend says that, on the contrary, the effect is alertness. Who is right?

REPLY.

You should divide the wager fifty fifty. At first cocaine bestows upon the user a sense of superiority, power, and great courage. Sooner or later, however, practically all narcotics cause slowing of the intellect. Despite this tendency, many of our most distinguished literary lights—Coleridge and De Quincey, for example—employed opium for many years.

PLEURAL FLUID.

H. H. writes: X-ray pictures disclose that I have water in my chest. What does this mean?

REPLY.

In the presence of irritation, fluid may collect in the pleural space—the sac which houses the lungs. As the inflammation subsides the liquid will absorb. In some instances it is desirable to withdraw the excess in order to give nature a better chance.

COLD BACK.

M. M. writes: I am troubled with a cold back at night. None of the measures I have tried were successful. What would you suggest?

REPLY.

A sizable electric pad adjusted to a low heat should suffice. Tape may be sewed to the cover and tied in front. Many devices are sold with this equipment.

INDOOR TEMPERATURE.

M. C. writes: Is it injurious to the health to have a temperature of 90 to 92 degrees Fahrenheit in the home?

REPLY.

Yes. All members of the family will have great difficulty in getting rid of body heat. We lose caloric to the surrounding air. Why reproduce artificially hot summer days in midwinter?

NOISE NUISANCE.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can the tenants who live in a private home run a party and [2] make all the noise they want because they pay rent?

3. Should the noise be stopped at 12 o'clock midnight or can it continue?

4. Can a landlord have his home insured more than once?

5. If a fire should break out, can he collect from the companies or does just one company pay for all the damages?

V. W.

1. In general, yes.

2. Depends on how much noise "they want." A point could be reached where the noise could be stopped as disorderly conduct.

3. There is no express time limit in our statutes or ordinances, but noises amounting to legal nuisances can be enjoined or if the facts amount to disorderly conduct can be stopped by the police. In determining whether a noise amounts to a nuisance the previous character of the neighborhood must be considered.

4 and 5.—Yes.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 25.

1. If a housewife bought a pound of young hyson, would she later serve it On a Meat Platter In a Soup Dish In a Cup In a Salad Bowl?
2. Birds whose feet are not webbed usually have how many toes? 2 3 4 5.
3. The 1940 census listed 131,669,275 people in the United States. How many of these were old enough to vote? 49,278,541 62,489,100 80,528,000 92,750,000.
4. Of the total number of potential voters [citizens 21 years of age or older] what percentage actually voted in the November election? 44% 57% 62% 75%
5. A housewife brought home a big package of huck. Would she be most likely to use it for Food Window Shades Towels Cold Drinks?
6. The greatest foes of propaganda and hysteria are facts, plus logical thinking. Great Britain hasn't yet lost 10 per cent of her merchant tonnage. Since she dominates the seas, she has also gained control of a large portion of the merchant tonnage of the invaded nations, such as Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, France, Norway, etc. You are entitled to one point for each correct matching of the nations below with their merchant tonnage at the start of the war. I'll add the approximate percentage now lost by each nation.

[b] Norway.	[v] 4,833,813 tons [about 3% now lost].
[c] Netherlands.	[y] 2,969,578 tons [about 5% now lost].
[d] Denmark.	[x] 1,174,944 tons [about 5½% now lost].

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—the last question counts five points.]

THE COST OF MUSIC LESSONS.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 3.—As a music student I wish to protest against the high fees charged by the so-called "best" teachers for private lessons. I have studied voice for several years and have had to pay five dollars a lesson most of the time. This money I have had to earn myself thru much hard work. In fact, because my lessons have taken most of what I have been able to earn, I have been able to save almost nothing.

This past Christmas season I stood on my feet for 10 hours a day in a suburban department store and earned only $2.23 a day, part of which went for meals and carfare. And yet a large part of the teaching profession expects five dollars for one scant half hour lesson which frequently isn't worth two cents!

No doubt somebody will say, "but these teachers spent so much on their own education they have to charge high fees in order to get a return on their investment." Nonsense! Many studios are half empty and the teachers are sitting around hoping and praying for pupils. I know of any number of people who say they would love to study music, but they simply cannot afford it. Let these teachers cut their prices in half and I am sure they would have more pupils than they could take care of, for in these troublous times people are turning to music as never before.

I have been told that I have a voice well worth cultivating and I would rather sing than eat, yet I, like countless others, have at last been compelled to abandon my lessons for the reason that I simply cannot afford them. JENNY LIND.

POLICE CALLS.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Do we citizens ever realize what goes on in our city streets, night after night?

Home with an appendicitis attack and tired of listening to war news with its horrors and music which is reiterated every five minutes, I happened to tune in to the police calls. What a startling revelation it was! Shootings, burglaries, auto accidents, and hospital cases coming in one after the other and handled by various squad cars as efficiently as an army.

Do we citizens of Chicago ever realize what an efficient police department we have, how many squad cars have to subdue drunken marauders with knives and guns, how many errands of mercy our police squads take care of and how many lives are saved?

To me, a resident of Chicago for 40 years, these things have always been taken for granted, and I have always felt that a policeman was a necessary evil until the experience I had of listening in on New Year's eve.

Another startling thing was that over 90 per cent of the trouble occurred in districts where housing conditions were bad and where relief plays an important part. Is it not possible that Letter housing for the poor and more playgrounds for children might be the solution to our tremendous crime problem?

MORRIS YELLIN.

BY PROXY.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—President Roosevelt, in his fire breathing chat, in one breath speaks piously of religion and Christianity and in the next dictatorially orders the manufacturers of sewing machines and lawn movers to cease such frivolous, non-Christianlike activities, and apply themselves to the manufacture of such handmaidens of the Good Samaritan as pistols, bombs, and bullets. He, of course, does not propose that we good Christian Americans sully our souls with the blood of our fellow men, by murdering our brother Christians in Germany personally, but suggests rather that we become the arsenal of democracy, and murder by proxy by placing these kindly, death dealing weapons of enlightenment in the hands of our British cousins.

EDWARD A. JOERS.

WE DIDN'T SAY "ALL."

Wilmette, Ill., Dec. 27.—Whether one is aligned with the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies or with the America First committee is of real importance these days, so real that I believe that every thinking adult has decided in which camp he stands, or certainly he should.

But why, why do your editorials carry a tone of annoyance with those persons who disagree with their premises? Persistently for months you have weakened the arguments you have striven to make persuasive by your peevish habit of ascribing ulterior motives to adverse opinion.

This morning's editorial, for instance, presumes to list those motives, and to accuse all their various alleged adherents of hiding selfishly among the membership of the White committee. You say some wanted all-out American participation "because of financial ties, others because of social and religious bonds; still others from ambition for social recognition abroad." Of all the editorial blather!

I am not a member of either committee, but from what I know of their objectives I am with the White committee in sympathy. Yet all my financial ties are in a home right here; my paternal grandfather came from Germany in the political exodus of, I think, 1848; my maternal ancestors' arrival in this country is practically lost in antiquity, and certainly events on the other side of the ocean of late years have not been conducive to "ambition for social recognition abroad." Furthermore, I haven't the slightest doubt that my status is quite representative of the rank and file of the White committee membership.

Your editorials on this whole subject for the most part could be discarded as ludicrous if they were not so bigoted and impudent. DORIS W. PINZ.

A PUBLIC SERVANT.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Why should we "appeal" to the President to keep the country out of war? Why should we "ask" him to do anything? As chief executive is it not rather his place to carry out the will of the people as expressed thru congress?

It is high time we Americans stiffened our backbones and said what we are going to do and what we are not going to do.

Let us not "ask" the President to keep us out of war. Let us "tell" him we are not going in!

THE NEW ORDER IN EUROPE

[South Wales Echo.]

TELL CITY BUDGET CUT MUST STAND; HEARING TODAY

Finance Officials Warn of Payless Pay Days.

The city council will hold a public hearing this morning for civic, taxpayer, labor, and civil service organizations on its 1941 operating budget which the aldermen hope to cut $2,200,000 below the 1940 figure. Yesterday two city finance officials cited the chronic low rate of tax collections to show the need for the slash.

One of the means of attaining the reduction is a proposed 10 per cent pay cut for members of unions regularly employed by the city. Last week union leaders threatened to strike if the cut were made, but council leaders retorted that even with a 10 per cent decrease city employés with union cards still would be getting more than union workers in private industry.

City Unable to Pay Bills.

City Controler Robert B. Upham declared yesterday that taxes collected by the city in the last 10 years have run far below taxes extended or billed. This has prevented the city from paying its bills on time.

Frank J. Flanagan, budget expert for the council finance committee, predicted that unless the recommended budget cut is put thru, the city's unpaid bills will be boosted this year beyond the present total of $8,818,000.

The city's 1941 operating budget now ready for passage totals $54,391,000, compared with the 1940 budget of $56,582,000.

Flanagan estimates, however, that revenues which the city can count on with certainty total only $49,750,000. This total consists of 22 millions in miscellaneous revenue, aside from taxes, and $27,750,000 to be received from the sale of tax warrants up to the legal limit, which is 75 per cent of the 1940 tax levy of 37 millions. Tax warrants are sold because the current tax levy does not become collectible until the following year. As collections are made, the warrants are redeemed.

Back Tax Yield Low.

Additional revenue to balance the budget, according to Flanagan, will have to come from tax collections for years prior to 1941, over and above the 75 per cent needed to retire tax warrants for those years. Flanagan estimated that not more than 3 million dollars can be expected from this source, making total anticipated 1941 revenues of $52,750,000.

Figures from Controler Upham showed that collections on back taxes during 1940, beyond amounts to retire warrants, actually totaled only $1,248,000. However, all of the city's tax warrants for 1936, 1937 and 1938 have now been retired, so more "free" cash for operations is expected from back taxes this year, officials said.

Controler Upham told how the continued low rate of tax receipts has forced the city into its present financial hole, which council leaders predict will bring payless pay days in 1941 unless the reduced budget is passed.

The city council, Upham explained, is permitted under court decisions to set aside a reserve of not more than 10 per cent for uncollectible taxes in making its budget. Thus, it must appropriate in each year's budget 90 per cent of its tax levy.

Expenses Top Actual Receipts.

In no year during the last 10 years, however, has the city spent as much as 90 per cent of its tax levy. For example, expenditures from 1934 thru 1939 actually have ranged from 77 to 88 per cent of the tax levies for the various years. But the city has been pinched in spite of these reduced expenditures, because expenses have not been reduced to the actual level of tax receipts, which have run only 72.9 to 81.3 per cent for the tax years 1934-'39.

This situation is shown in the following table. One column shows the amount of taxes received by the city as of Nov. 30, 1940, for each tax year. The next column shows what percentage of each year's tax levy these receipts constitute, and the right hand column gives the percentage of the levy that the city spent or obligated itself to pay in each year.

Year.	Tax receipts.	Per cent of levy received.	Per cent of levy spent.
1934	$23,246,000	72.9	88.9
1935	27,253,000	75.4	86.9
1936	30,153,000	81.3	83.9
1937	28,990,000	78.9	81.6
1938	29,563,000	79.5	82.1
1939	27,695,000	74.5	77.1

In some years the deficiencies in tax receipts were partly offset by the collection of more miscellaneous revenues than the budgets provided, but these offsets were relatively small.

Legal Windfall Helps in '40.

The effect of low tax collections on the city's budget was demonstrated again in 1940. The city, after deducting the legal 10 per cent reserve for uncollectible taxes, appropriated $56,582,000 for operations, but reduced its actual expenditures 2 million dollars below the appropriation. In spite of this economy, low tax receipts would have forced an increase of 2 million dollars in unpaid bills if the city had not received $3,136,000 in nonrecurring income. This resulted from the sale to private firms of a judgment against the county. No such special income is in sight this year, according to city officials.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

No one would think much of a general who refused to change his tactics to meet unexpected developments. The same may be said of a declarer. A perfectly sound plan often must be altered when unforeseen difficulties arise in the course of play. Note today's deal.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 diamond	1 spade	3 diamonds	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the jack of spades. Dummy ducked and declarer won with the queen. On the surface, the contract seemed to be in the bag with five diamond tricks, two spades, and two clubs, hence declarer would not even need a heart trick. The cashing of the diamond ace, however, brought the annoying news that East had the suit stopped. Declarer mumbled an imprecation, the translation of which would have been "O, well, what can I do about it?" and doggedly continued diamond leads in order to clear the suit. East took the fourth round [West meanwhile discarding three clubs and one heart] and returned the eight of spades. Dummy's ace won and the established fifth diamond was duly cashed, but declarer had nary a chance for the all important ninth trick. When he tried to establish a heart trick, West jumped in with the ace and ran off three good spades.

The moment the diamond situation was revealed declarer should have seen the urgent necessity for changing his plan of play. It required no great analytical ability to foresee that immediate establishment of the diamond suit, which involved giving East the lead, would risk a spade return which would establish West's suit. Then, since the heart ace was virtually marked in West's hand because of his spade overcall, West would have an entry for the cashing of his long spades. There was a very simple method by which this manifest danger could be avoided. That was to remove West's outside entry, the heart ace, before it could become really valuable. Thus, after cashing the diamond ace noting the bad break, declarer should have shifted immediately to the heart queen. The defenders then would have been helpless.

If East took his ace and shifted back to spades, declarer would be in no danger. He could clear the diamond suit at his leisure and East would have no spade left with which to put West on lead. If East did have another spade, West's spade suit would be only four cards long and hence constitute no danger. If East refused to take the heart queen, declarer, with the vital heart trick safely under his belt, then would shift back to diamonds and establish his ninth trick in that suit.

Child Should Do Chores as Duty to Home

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

There are persons who believe children should earn the money they are given to use. There are others who have definite but different ideas. And there are some parents who give the matter no thought at all, just hand out pennies, dimes, quarters or larger sums at odd times.

Most of the things we ask our boys and girls to do to help us are things in the ordinary course of their lives, running errands, drying the dishes, chopping wood for the fireplace, mowing the lawn, scrubbing the bath tub, setting the table, shelling the peas, going for the milk and eggs when we're in the country or at camp, keeping their own rooms in order, putting their toys away, or a dozen other things. To my mind, all these chores should be done as the children's share in, or contribution to, the life of the family.

If it is an extra duty involving an unusual amount of work or time, then they should do it from a natural desire to help their father or mother. And they can be brought to this frame of mind by right handling.

I think it's a great mistake always to pay the children for the chores they do for you. They really ought not to be allowed to feel that they do things for their parents for what they get out of it, that they can count on a material return for the obliging things they do. It brings money too much to the fore in a child's consciousness. It is likely to distort a child's values. Money has its place, but it should be kept there.

Chaplin Declines New York Critics' Best Actor Award

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—Bosley Crowther, president of the New York film critics, said tonight that even tho Charles Chaplin had declined their award for the best screen acting of last year, "we still feel that he gave the best performance in 1940." Chaplin, who renounced the award on the ground that acceptance would "acknowledge the fact that actors are competing with each other," was not present at a party at which the critics gave out awards in a New York-Hollywood broadcast. Katharine Hepburn broadcast from Dallas, Tex., that she was "hysterically happy" to be awarded a scroll as the best actress of the year for her rôle in "The Philadelphia Story."

Good Morning!

Two people can say the same thing and mean it so differently!

"It's the funniest thing . . . !"—I heard from two sources, re "Comrade X." One of the exclaimers meant she considered the film a laugh fest. The other thought it "the funniest thing" that anybody could think the picture funny. . . .

There you are.

Well, let's see:

As to assets, Clark Gable is present, debonair, and competent. Hedy Lamarr is there beautiful and not incompetent. An able supporting cast is on the job and there's a tank race that is original and exciting.

Otherwise—"Comrade X" is just a sort of mediocre combination imitation of "Foreign Correspondent" and "Nanotchka." Locale—Russia.

I guess that says it.

See you tomorrow.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

Every woman in the world ought to enjoy the luxury, at least occasionally, of one of the modern beauty rituals described as a body treatment. It's the ultimate in pampering, relaxation, and refreshment. Besides which, it's good for the figure! You'd be surprised at what beauty bargains you can find in treatments.

Exactly what you have in one of these treatments depends pretty much on what you need. If you're of average weight or under you don't have a reducing treatment. You have the gentlest kind of a massage, perhaps a mild heat treatment and you can wind up with a shower or a cologne rub. This is what you'll order on days when the world is out of whack and every nerve is squeaking in protest.

If you're on the hefty side you can have any one of a number of treatments. Exercise as a starter, if you like, or one of those new electrical treatments that induces brisk muscle contraction. The massage you have is a deep one; there might even be some brisk slapping and patting on the too, too solid flesh.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Diary of a Movie Correspondent.

Hollywood, Jan. 5.—Sunday—After the Chicago Bears All-Stars pro football game to Doug Churchill's party in compliment to Martha Scott and "Our Town," and Miss Scott, looking mighty charming, accepts a huge silver cup from the equally charming looking Bette Davis. The drinking and chattering is interrupted at its height when everybody soberly settles down to hear President Roosevelt's speech.

Monday—A twosome of golf with Time's Ed Stansbury, and I hear that George Murphy is hospitalized with flu, as is almost everybody else. There's been more shooting around in studios than ever before. . . . Home early for a between holidays family dinner.

Tuesday—To Metro, for a look at a big white staircase and a few babes in costume on the "Ziegfeld Girl" set, and then to visit Casting Director Billy Grady. Billy, who has been in the theater more than 30 years, made a hobby of writing a review of everything he saw, with comments on the actors. He had 12 or 13 bound volumes, which were priceless, and somebody stole all but the most recent one, which was at the binder's. The recent one covers the last seven or eight years and is fascinating. Billy wrote his comments on "The Green Bay Tree," one of Broadway's superlative productions, in the phrases and from the viewpoint of a Sing Sing convict; and they were hilarious. He tells of a woman who came to Metro looking for a rôle. He left her in his office when he was summoned by Eddie Mannix, and when he came back she was gone. Couple days later she sent him a note: "I picked up your book and read what you said about me in a play a few years ago. There was no use in my staying."

Wednesday—To the Rose bowl game. Very good, but not as good as Sunday's. Having come two hours early, I sit in the press stand atop the bowl and watch people with my glasses.

Thursday—To R. K. O., on the sets of "The Devil and Miss Jones" and "They Met in Argentina," and on the latter I meet Shotgun, the gabby Texan makeup man who is my favorite Hollywood character. I'm told of his having approached an unapproachable and frightfully dignified star and saying, "Howzit, sister—are you on the beam?" . . . Lunch with Ginger Rogers, who was not Shotgun's victim but who is reported to be remote and strongheaded. And she's a charming, intelligent and ambitious young lady whom I'd vote for because she doesn't wear red polish on her fingernails. Ginger is vastly pleased with the success of "Kitty Foyle," and hopes her new "Tom, Dick, and Harry" won't be rushed into production too soon. My guess is that she may never do another musical, altho she didn't say she wouldn't. All she said was that a musical would have to be very, very good.

Friday—For a drive down to Newport in the morning, and the sea has subsided after many days of battering beach homes. . . . To Universal to see J. Barrymore's "The Invisible Woman." It's a very pleasant comedy and a good performance by John.

Saturday—Back to Universal, to watch Bud Abbott and Lou Costello working in the windup of "Buck Privates." Shooting ends Tuesday and the picture will be almost ready for a preview—for they have been cutting it and preparing the sound track as they went along in order to be the first studio out with a draft picture.

1941 Footgear Meets American Women's Needs and Tastes

BY REA SEEGER.

A sneak preview of new shoe fashions staged a couple of days before the exciting national shoe week, uncovered a lot of good footwork. American designers have clicked again. Without any inspiration other than the American manner of living and having fun, combined with a complete understanding of the needs of the American woman and the particular foot fashions needed for country, town, sports or career wardrobes, these designers have presented everything!

Footwear of the 1941 collections are loosely divided into two divisions, these two divisions each divided into interesting groups. First are the "ladylike" pumps, second the casual models. The casual type shoes are tremendously important. And they're not play shoes! Casual shoes or slippers are made for casual living, those occasions that are not definitely dress parade. This doesn't mean sloppy footwork, but shoes with an easy flair or swank—footgear to wear with tweeds, with sweaters and shirt waist dresses, or with jackets and skirts.

For January and the first half of February black will head the popularity list. After that, dark navy, later, a true navy to accent all spring navy blue costumes. After that the newer and lighter shades of brown. Patent leather also will be important, and the elasticized fabrics are more popular and wearable than ever before. Gabardine is one of the best fabrics to wear now, also gabardine combined with kidskin or patent leather or with suede.

Brand new trim excitement is featured under the timely American influence. This means perky tailored bows, nail head trim in copper or silver metal, lacings, leather that has been tooled, in fringe or lacing and draping. This manner of trim makes an entirely different shoe story.

But the biggest and best news is that saddle shoes are on the way out! No longer will dirty worn saddle shoes offend the fastidious. Enters the smart, easy to wear casual shoe called the "traveler." It's a clever lounging type shoe of calfskin beautifully fashioned and neatly molded for supercomfort copied from the masculine moccasin type shoe called the loafer. This alone would easily establish the American shoe designer as a master craftsman.

Ballet Closes Its Engagement with 7 Works

BY CECIL SMITH.

With two performances, in which seven different ballets were presented, the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo shut up shop at the Auditorium theater yesterday. The company's immediate schedule calls for a performance in Elgin tonight, several appearances with the St. Louis Symphony orchestra later in the week, and then a westward journey to the Pacific coast.

At yesterday's matinée "Bacchanale" received its second performance of the engagement. Whether or not it may justly be termed a decadent work "Bacchanale" still remains striking because of the forceful novelty of its subject matter and decors. After all, Salvator Dali accomplished an extraordinary feat, and one not likely to be duplicated, when he composed a libretto that would accommodate such diverse folk as Ludwig II, of Bavaria, Lohengrin, Venus, the three graces, Sacher Masoch [the original masochist], an animated umbrella, and a whole portfolio of nymphs, cupids, fauns, and satyrs.

Of course these assorted impedimenta would not in themselves be enough to make a ballet of enduring value, and "Bacchanale" has been able to live beyond its first season quite as much because of the sturdy, well balanced design of Leonide Massine's choreography as because of Mr. Dali's psychoanalytic libretto.

The afternoon bill also included "Serenade," with Marc Platoff dancing attractively in the rôle heretofore awarded to Frederic Franklin; "Spectre de la Rose," with Mia Slavenska and Roland Guerard; and "Vienna—1814." The final bill, in the evening, consisted of "Le Baiser de la Fee," "The New Yorker," and "The Nutcracker."

In its 11 day engagement the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo has offered six new ballets. "Serenade," "Poker Game," and "Le Baiser de la Fée" were choreographed by George Balanchine. Leonide Massine created "Vienna—1814" and "The New Yorker." "The Nutcracker" was remodelled by Mme. A. Fedorova after the original Ivanova choreography.

Of the six new works, "The Nutcracker" enjoyed the greatest popular success, no doubt because of its excellent opportunities for solo and ensemble dancing of traditional character. But none of the other five could justly be called a failure, and while this year's new repertory contained no creative works of the value of "Rouge et Noir" or "St. Francis" [both unjustifiably eliminated from this season's schedule], at least it contained no out-and-out turkeys.

The company's principal soloists were as good as ever, and in some cases [notably that of Andre Eglevsky] much better than before. The engagement left happy memories of Mr. Massine in "Gaité Parisienne" and "Petrouchka"; of Alexandra Danilova in "Gaité Parisienne" and "Vienna—1814"; of Alicia Markova in "The Nutcracker" and "Poker Game"; of Miss Slavenska in "Le Baiser de la Fée"; of Igor Youskevitch in "Serenade"; of Mr. Franklin as the joker in "Poker Game"—you complete your own list.

On the other hand, the corps de ballet is still ragged, and cannot be compared with the ensembles of the De Basil Ballet Russe and the Ballet Theater; and the orchestra is evidently just something we are supposed to learn to put up with.

The engagement strengthened the impression that S. Hurok should find a way to combine his two Ballet Russe organizations into one incomparably strong unit. Until this happens, all our Russian ballet performances will evidently remain on a lower level of technical excellence than those we saw as recently as five years ago.

Brother's Description.

Yesterday morning's mail brought to a Chicago aunt of two girls in Lincoln, Neb., enthusiastic descriptions of their first ball. The invitations, the pink net dresses with eight yards of skirts, the new wraps and slippers, the school boy escorts all were detailed in superlatives. A note from their 10 year old brother, Jackie, was included in the letter. It was mostly about the outcome of the Rose bowl game. He added a postscript: "The girls went to a dance last night. They look like their gardenias this morning."

Phonetics.

An English evacuee related the story to Philip Weintraub: An Englishman was in a telephone booth trying to get a connection when a bombardment started. He had difficulty in making the operator understand the name of the exchange, which was Ealing, and the crescendo of the air raid made matters much worse. Finally, in desperation, he shouted: "E for 'erbert, A wot 'orses eat, L where yer'll go wen yer dies, I for ingines—them things in front of trines, N wot lays eggs, G for gorblime. Now 'ave yer got it?"

Two Women's Groups Meet Today on Eight Hour Law

Representatives of the Illinois League of Woman Voters will meet the executive committee of the Illinois Women's concord at luncheon today at the Chicago Bar association to discuss the concord's proposed amendment to the Illinois eight hour day for women workers. The concord would exempt private secretaries and women employed in executive, administrative, or professional capacities from the provisions of the law. The League of Women Voters hitherto has supported the law as it now stands.

Phelps, Wis., Gaining Popularity Among Winter Sports Devotees

BY JUDITH CASS.

FAR to the north of Chicago, where a virgin growth of hemlock and hardwood coats the most beautiful hills of northern Wisconsin, a little group of Chicagoans and winter sports fans with leanings toward Sun Valley and Quebec has come upon a perfect haven for week-end jaunts.

It's Long lake, Phelps, Wis., and the list of Chicagoans there thruout the holidays testifies for its growing popularity.

The W. Sanger Hinchmans of Winnetka are among the latest north shore residents to enjoy a winter outing at Phelps. They left for four days in Wisconsin on Thursday, accompanied by their children, John Sanger and Josephine Wallace. The James L. Garards of Winnetka were at Long Lake lodge for the same period with Jimmy and Eugenia Ann.

The George Spauldings and George Jr., Anna, and John of Glencoe returned last week with enthusiastic reports of the cross-country skiing and skating which await the visitor to Phelps. One of the favorite sports, they say, is to ski from one lake to another and have dinner at one of several cabins maintained by the owners.

Family Atmosphere Prevails at Log Lodge.

One of Long lake's greatest attractions is its informal family atmosphere. Among the families which have visited the charming log lodge on the hill this vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Walholm and Roy Jr. of Winnetka; Mrs. Harold O. Barnes and Charles and Alice of Winnetka, and the McDougals—Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. McDougal Jr., E. D. McDougal III, and Miss Mary and Miss Anne McDougal of Chicago, and the David B. McDougals of Geneva with David B. Jr., Bill, and Alec.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Holley Jr., who were married last week in Wilmette, are among the other visitors at the resort.

Miss Peggy Baldwin and Mr. Holley Jr. were married Dec. 30 in St. Francis Xavier church, Wilmette. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank E. Baldwin and the late Dr. F. E. Baldwin of Cincinnati, O., formerly of Chicago, and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lockwood.

After the nuptial mass, in which the bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Waldo Hawxhurst of Glencoe, the couple left on a honeymoon in the north. They will live in Evanston.

Dinner Dance Feb. 1 for Patricia Cathcart.

Mrs. Wesley Dixon has planned a small dinner dance for her niece, Debutante Patricia Cathcart, to be given at the Onwentsia club on Feb. 1. Miss Cathcart is the daughter of the James A. Cathcarts of Lake Forest.

Mrs. Corwith Hamill has been appointed chairman of the committee that will plan the Wayne-Du Page Hunt ball to be held on Saturday night at the Dunham Woods club. Working with Mrs. Hamill are Mrs. Chauncey B. Blair, Mrs. Gardner Brown, Mrs. Kenneth M. Hess Jr., and Mrs. Nathan D. McClure.

Public speaking, the bugaboo of many women, has been deftly handled in a course initiated this fall by the Chicago Junior league. Results have been so successful that the league is continuing the course for another three months, the first class in the new series being given this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Edmund Mottershead of New York directs the classes.

Mrs. Marshall Sampsell, who won the prize for the greatest improvement in the last course, will keep on with the lessons. Among others who are members of the class are Mrs. Edward Harkness, Mrs. Robert Ingersoll, Mrs. Robert A. Carr, Mrs. Robert F. Carr Jr., Mrs. Louis Watermulder, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Mrs. John Drum, Mrs. Richard Lamport, Mrs. Boyd Everett, Mrs. John Coffin, Mrs. John Kearns, and Mrs. Harold Glen.

Tea Today to Celebrate Travelers' Aid Project.

The opening of the benefit ticket office for the Travelers' Aid ball to be given on Feb. 1 will be celebrated today at tea at the new offices of the aid at 906 North Michigan avenue, Mrs. Edwin W. Sims Jr. is in charge of the tea.

Knitting needles will be clicking full force this morning at the hor e of Mrs. Robert Cavenaugh, for the Service club today begins a series of knitting sessions for the benefit of the Red Cross. The group plans to meet each Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at homes of members.

The English-Speaking union will receive the proceeds of a play to be given by the French speaking students of International House on Jan.

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

SYNOPSIS.

Leaving their house guest, Chell Scott, Norma Tredwill goes to the city to break up the romance between her libertine ex-husband, Paul Gerente, and her stepdaughter, Barbara. She sees Barbara leaving Paul's apartment, goes in and finds Paul has been murdered. Duncan Maclain, a blind detective, receives a visitor who claims to be Paul Gerente, with orders in code from the naval intelligence. On a hunch Maclain goes to Paul's apartment and finds Cameron with the dead man. Cameron confesses to the murder, but Maclain doubts his story. Barbara disappears. Norma's stepson, Gilbert, is designing engineer for Bunny Carter, who is head of the aircraft works. In Gilbert's workshop some one pushes a wardrobe on Norma and she suspects it is Bella, the maid. Col. Gray, head of the New York defense plans, commissions Maclain and his partner, Spud, to investigate spy activities in connection with the murder of Paul and the bombing sight Gilbert has designed. Maclain goes to the Tredwill home with his two seeing-eye dogs, ostensibly to solve Barbara's disappearance. He discovers Gilbert's bombing sight plans have been traced, and later finds Bella beheaded. He has noticed the odor of violets in Paul's apartment, and notices it again about Bella. He concludes it is a trade-mark of a foreign spy system, but believes Bella was murdered because she was working for the naval intelligence while pretending to work for the spies. Maclain goes with Carter to the aviation plant where he hears Louis Madoc, foreman, speak, and recognizes the voice of the man who visited him the night of Gerente's murder, pretending to be Gerente. A perfume ad is mailed Norma, from the House of Bonnee, and Maclain decodes it, finding it is a message to kidnap him and find the defense plans. He throws the ad out as bait to catch the criminals after he has sent a message to Spud in the city to go to the House of Bonnee, investigate, and be ready to capture the kidnap gang. Spud goes there and the saleagirl tries to sell him some black violets perfume. Spud refuses to buy and is knocked out by a whiff of it. Upon reviving, he puts up a battle to escape, but is shot. Cameron, who confessed to Gerente's murder, is also working for the intelligence service. The spies think he is locked up under suspicion of murder, but he has been trailing Maclain. He breaks into Maclain's apartment and hears the message on the Ediphone Maclain sent Spud. He reports to Col. Gray.

INSTALMENT XLIII.

RESCUED.

A Lueger 7.65 coiled back and spat four times with the speed of a striking rattler. Somewhere upstairs the captain's ears heard the crash of glass, and the splintered fall of a door.

"You're a good shot, Mr. Cameron," said Duncan Maclain.

The police car with Sergt. King at the wheel worked its way rapidly thru streets festooned with Christmas lights overhead, and sped out toward West Hartford, up Asylum street hill. In the back, wrapped up warmly, sat Chell Scott and Duncan Maclain. Sticking close to the rear, nosing occasional late merrymakers out of the way with a quick imperative blast of the klaxon, came Arnold Cameron's speedy convertible coupé.

It was after midnight when the center of the city dropped behind. The streets grew darker, broken only now and then by the light of some late-closing store. A watery moon battled ineffectively against smoky clouds and finally sank down behind them defeated. As Sergt. King sighted the single yellow square marking the Crags and turned up the hill, it began to snow. They waited some time before Maclain heard footsteps answer the sergeant's peremptory ringing and Pierce opened the door.

"Captain Maclain!" the butler exclaimed, taking in the captain's dishevelled appearance with a trained servant's eye. "You've been hurt, sir—and Miss Scott, is she with you?"

"Yes, Pierce." Maclain stepped inside. "You might give the sergeant a hand and help her in out of the car."

He leaned wearily against the wall concentrating on the abnormally loud tick of a grandfather's clock.

Pierce came back in and Chell's voice said, "I'm quite all right now, Captain. Pierce has just been saying that the Tredwills are all away."

"You've had a terrible shock," Maclain told her commandingly. "I'm going to call Dr. Trotter. Get to bed immediately."

Pierce said, "Mr. Tredwill had a call from Boston. They found Miss Barbara."

"I thought they might," put in Arnold Cameron. "That means they've washed up the show. I have to get to a telephone right away."

"There's one here," said Pierce.

Maclain heard Cameron go into the closet booth and close the door. He took two steps, opened it and said, "I wish you'd get Dr. Trotter for Miss Scott before you make another call."

Cameron's gray eyes flashed with a quick admiring glint as he said, "Okay."

"Dominick was to drive Mr. Tredwill and Mr. Gilbert to Boston in the car," Pierce went on when Maclain had shut Cameron in behind the door. "The ladies insisted they be allowed to go so they took Mr. Stacy along. The cook and parlor maid have gone into Hartford for the night with their people, but they'll return in the morning. For the moment I'm the only one here."

"It's quite all right, Pierce." Maclain pulled himself together with an effort. He heard Chell go upstairs and added, "I wonder if you'd see me to my room, Sergeant," and followed her up, leaning on Sergt. King's arm.

Pierce came close behind them. "Your dog's waiting for you in your room, Captain. The police found her when they located Miss Scott's car. Apparently it was left exactly where you were stopped last night and never moved at all."

The captain said nothing. He needed no one to tell him that Schnucke was waiting on the other side of the bedroom door. She had already acknowledged his arrival with a welcoming scratch and a whine. When she broke her rigorous training long enough to put both feet on his chest and caress his nose with a warm soft tongue, it was a moment before he could find the voice to order her down.

Pierce clicked on the lights. "You'll find everything just where you left it, sir. Your other dog's in the basement. I brought him over here because Dominick's away and the heat's turned off in the garage. I was afraid he might be cold. Is there anything more I can do?"

"Nothing, but accept my thanks," said Maclain.

"I'll turn down the bed before I leave," the butler told him, "and lay out your things. If you need me for anything more, my telephone button is number seven, the top one in the lefthand row." He went off with a quick, "Good night."

Sergt. King said, "He's a damned efficient man."

As the captain started to undress, King told him, "Lie down on the bed. I know you're butt-headed and independent, but tonight for once in your life a policeman's playing nurse to you."

"I'm afraid it'll be a pleasure." The captain stretched out on the bed with a smile and added, "How in the name of heaven did you locate me?"

"I didn't," said Sergt. King tugging at a shoe. "You'll have to thank that mad man in the camel hair coat. He picked up a fellow named Louis Madoc, shut him up in a closet and turned rats loose on him. I'm afraid when the commissioner hears what I've been mixed up in tonight I'll have some real explaining to do."

Maclain started to sit up, but the sergeant pushed him back again.

"Then he must have been in touch with Spud, my partner in New York." The captain paused and added, "Did you know Cameron was a member of the FBI?"

"I learned it tonight," said King, "but how did you?"

"It was fairly obvious, if you had all the details as I had," said Maclain. "He confessed to a murder he hadn't committed and pointedly dragged in an innocent girl. She was promptly thrown into jail and held there under a prohibitive bond. I tested her with a trick, a friendly suggestion written in violet ink. She reacted to it and proved herself a member of the sabotage gang by jumping at the idea that she back up Mr. Cameron's fake confession and make a stab at sending him to the chair. While every one in this very smart spy organization thinks Mr. Cameron is in jail, too, he's most annoyingly running around free."

"You said it," Sergt. King remarked, breathing heavily. "He's certainly been plenty of annoyance to me."

Schnucke stood up beside the bed as Cameron came in the door. The FBI man closed it swiftly behind him, walked over and sat down on the bed beside Maclain.

"Captain," he said, "I have bad news for you."

Two thin lines appeared at the sides of the captain's nose and smoothed themselves out again.

"They found your partner, Spud Savage, in a room in the Tanner building when they raided it tonight. He was shot in the back. He's in New York hospital and the doctors say his chances are good, but it was touch and go. Your chauffeur was there, too, knocked out with a hypo of scopolamine. He isn't seriously hurt."

Maclain asked, "When did Spud talk to you?"

"I didn't see him," said Cameron. "I'm afraid I burgled your apartment last night and played the record containing your message. The FBI has in its possession 23 names of ringleaders in an organization which planned wholesale sabotage in the United States tomorrow. Eleven of them they know. Twelve more they found, thanks to you, in the House of Bonnee. The President of the United States has sent you a word of thanks, Capt. Maclain, conveyed by Col. Gray."

Stritch 'Asks Gain of 200,000 for Holy Name Society

Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, last night appealed for 200,000 new members of the archdiocesan union of the Holy Name society. He spoke before 2,000 members of the society at Holy Name cathedral. Yesterday was the annual feast of the Holy Name of Jesus.

"Why the injustices bearing down on millions?" the archbishop asked. "Why does man fall so low as to try to make ugly impurities his joys? Why tonight are the very trophies of human inventiveness being used to destroy fair cities and impoverish artistic inheritances of the past?

"The answer is clear. Whatever difficulties there may be, the basic trouble is that men have refused to accept Jesus. You may write 10,000 clever essays on social problems, but if you leave out the mention of this fact that Jesus alone is the savior you have wasted your time."

In the feast day oration the Rev. Harry C. Graham, O.P., national director of the society, warned that invaders would enter America if the country does not return to faith in God.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Cooks run out of ideas for the meat course sooner than for any other part of a meal. The reason for this usually is a lack of familiarity with the many different cuts of meat which are available, and an inclination to use familiar recipes over and over again.

Getting well acquainted with the meat dealer and talking "shop" with him will help the housewife to acquire more knowledge of meats. And there are handy booklets, such as our own "Modern Meat Lore," [23 cents, by mail] which are useful, too.

These recipes should furnish a few ideas.

HAM AND SWEET POTATO ROLL.

[Serves Four]
¾ pound ground ham
½ pound ground pork
½ cup fine cracker crumbs
1 egg
¾ cup milk
Pepper
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes

Combine all ingredients except potatoes. Spread on waxed paper to ½ inch in thickness, making a rectangle about 6 by 10 inches. Spread with seasoned mashed potatoes, and roll like a jelly roll. Place in dripping pan and bake 1½ hours at 350 degrees.

BUTTERFLY PORK CHOPS.

These attractive chops are prepared by the dealer from a boned loin of pork and are cooked just as are ordinary loin chops, or they may be braised in sour cream like this: First dredge the chops with flour, then brown on both sides in hot fat and add ½ cup sour cream, seasoning well with salt and pepper. Cover and cook slowly for about 45 minutes. Make gravy for the chops, using the sour cream in the pan.

KIDNEY LOAF.

[Serves Four]
1 pound beef kidney
1 cup milk
3 slices bread
¼ cup bacon drippings
2 eggs
1 small can pimientos
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons chopped onion
½ teaspoon powdered sage
3 slices bacon

Wash kidney in cold water. Drain well and grind, including internal fat. Pour milk over bread and let soak. Combine all ingredients except bacon, and mix thoroly. Line bottom of loaf pan with slices of uncooked bacon. Add mixture and pack firmly. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 2 hours.

Jan. 6, 1941.

Vocations—Those born on the 6th of any month should have a vocation which involves service to others. They make fine teachers, judges, hotel managers, restaurant owners, caterers, workers in institutions, vocational advisers, and, in fact, all the positions of responsibility in which they can advise others. They enjoy working with foods, clothing, and all household furnishings and decorations and things which have a direct connection with the comforts and beauty of the home. They are the ideal parents and are interested in the welfare of children.

Dainty Lingerie Styles

MISS' LINGERIE AND NIGHT CLOTHES.

No matter what the feminine creature's age, she needs dainty lingerie, pajamas, and dressing gowns. Unless she's pennywise, this penchant for unmentionables can run into money. The sensible thing for every one to do is to sew underthings and night clothes for herself.

Style No. 2984 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires ⅞ yard 39 inch fabric for bandeau; 1 yard for panties, 1½ yards of material and 3 yards of lace for chemise, and 1⅞ yards of fabric for petticoat, plus 1¾ yards lace.

Style No. 3163 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, and 36, 38, 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4¾ yards of material for pajamas, while 3¼ yards is required for dressing gown. Contrasting material for trimming should measure 1¼ yards.

The monogram—Style No. 11206 must be ordered separately.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 5 (AP).—The Chicago Blackhawks gave their rookie goalie, Sam LoPresti, stout support tonight while gaining a 2 to 2 National Hockey league tie with the Bruins in Boston Garden before 12,000.

LoPresti, called from the Kansas City American association club to replace the injured Paul Goodman, made his major league debut an impressive affair, for he turned back all except two of the 29 shots the Bruins aimed at him during 70 minutes of rugged play.

Move on to New York.

The tie sends the Hawks to New York for their battle Tuesday with the Rangers, confident that the youngster will stand up under major league fire and eager for victory. They return to Chicago Thursday night to meet the Montreal Canadiens in the Stadium. The busy week will be climaxed with a battle with the Detroit Red Wings, whose slugging defense man, Giacomo Orlando, distinguished himself in their last meeting in Chicago by hitting a spectator after the game. Orlando went unpunished by National Hockey league officials.

LoPresti's first miss tonight must be recorded as a fluke, for the skate of Johnny Mariucci, Blackhawk defense man, deflected the puck into the cage for the first Boston goal. It was credited to Rookie Terry Reardon, who had fired originally after taking a pass from Bill Hollett.

Cooper Scores for Hawks.

Hollett drew the first of the 10 penalties handed out by Referee Frank [King] Clancy and while he was serving his two minute sentence, Joe Cooper counted for the Blackhawks after 8:52 of the first period.

The Hawks pulled into a 2 to 1 lead during the 14th minute of third period play when Phil Hergesheimer converted Doug Bentley's assist, but Dit Clapper rifled in a 40 footer and put the Bruins back on even terms with less than three minutes of regular time remaining.

Rough Overtime Session.

The deadlocked rivals were in ugly moods during the overtime session, which saw seven penalties imposed, including two each against Clapper and Mariucci, who came to blows after the Bruin defense star rushed to the aid of Eddie Wiseman of Boston as he tussled with George Allen along the left sideboards.

Petrovich, Coast Prep Star, Leaves to Enroll at Texas

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5 [Special].—Johnny Petrovich, said to be one of the best football players turned out by Southern California high schools, left for Austin, Tex., this week-end to enroll at the University of Texas. Petrovich's departure ends rumors which had him scheduled to attend various schools as the result of the ruling by Pacific Coast Conference Commissioner Edwin Atherton last September, which found Petrovich and eight other Los Angeles high school stars ineligible to play for conference schools because of alleged improper proselyting activities on the part of the institutions.

IF the West Texas State Teachers' college basketball team isn't the tallest in the United States, it will do until a taller one comes along. . . . Eric [Boob] McNair, the infielder recently sold to the Tigers by the White Sox, is the hero [or goat] of more amusing anecdotes than any other player in baseball. . . . Once, when he was with the Athletics, he reported for duty with a sore throwing arm. . . . When asked the cause by Connie Mack, Boob replied: "I was playing checkers last night and rested my head on my arm while trying to figure out a Manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers will wager any one a new hat that Kirby Higbe, Whitlow Wyatt, and Luke Hamlin will win more games this season than Cincinnati's star pitching triumvirate of Paul Derringer, Bucky Walters, and Junior Thompson. . . .

It is lonely in the westland here without you,
And my heart is looking eastward toward the dawn;
It were better for me not to think about you,
But the world is all a mist since you have gone;
For the breezes bear your song to me at twilight,
And the ripple of your laughter's in the burn;
And the flame that smolders in your eyes is my light,
I can see it flashing everywhere I turn.

O, the hills have lost their glow since you departed,
And there's sadness in the moaning of the breeze,
And the birds you used to love seem broken-hearted,
As they warble mournful dirges in the trees;
And it's I'll be on the long, long trail tomorrow;
I am bidding all these western lands adieu,
For I'm checking out on loneliness and sorrow,
And I'm going back to happiness and you.

HOPPE, SCHAEFER OPEN 3 CUSHION BATTLE TODAY

Former Defends Title in Challenge Match.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Willie Hoppe and Jake Schaefer, the original boy wonder twins of billiards, this afternoon will begin a four day, 480 point challenge match for the world's three cushion championship in Bensinger's arena, 131 South Wabash avenue. The first 60 point block will open at 2:30 o'clock, and the second will be held tonight, starting at 8:30 p. m. This pattern will be followed thru Thursday night, with Referee Charles McElligott marking the position of the balls at the end of each block, the scoring player continuing play therefrom in the ensuing block.

The Hoppe-Schaefer duel is a two man preview of the 1941 world battle, which will begin next Monday, with both William and Jacob vieing with a flock of other artists for the championship which Hoppe won last April 6 on the same battleground and for which Schaefer finished as runnerup.

Set Records in Winning.

It is rare for one man to dominate a sustained sports event from start to finish, but that is the feat the 53 year old Hoppe accomplished last spring, much to the amazement of rivals and customers. Before the marathon was over, the personable New Yorker had won all 20 of his matches, a record in itself, for not even in a ten-match, once-around argument, had any cueist ever swept his whole campaign. As if that wasn't enough, Willie also added another mark — a world grand average of 1.161 points per inning, thereby displacing the previous record of 1.123 set by Welker Cochran of San Francisco in the 1935 meet.

The former mark for consecutive victories was the ten-in-a-row performance of Johnny Layton, the redheaded Missourian who was entered in this meet, but who will be unable to compete because of injuries sustained in an accident a couple of weeks ago.

Earned Right to Challenge.

Schaefer earned the privilege of challenging Hoppe in this particular match by reason of having finished second in last year's event with a record of 13 victories and seven defeats.

That record of Jake's will give you some evidence of how Hoppe dominated the show, for the closest to Schaefer in the field were Jay Bozeman, of Vallejo, Cal., with a 12 and 8 mark, and Layton and Cochran, each with 11 and 9.

HALAS LEAVES HOSPITAL; SOON TO RETURN HOME

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5 [Special].—Recovered from an appendicitis operation, which he underwent Dec. 22, George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears football team, was discharged from St. Vincent's hospital today.

Halas was greeted by his wife and two children who turned the reunion into a double celebration, inasmuch as today was his daughter Virginia's 18th birthday anniversary. George Jr., 15, is the other child.

The Chicago coach said he "felt pretty good" and was hoping to leave for Chicago by train Thursday.

Skier Hans Strand Hurt in Crash at Eastern Meet

Bear Mountain, N. Y., Jan. 5 (AP).—Hans Strand, nationally known skier representing the Bear Mountain Sports association, was injured seriously today in a crash on the newly remodeled 55 meter ski jump, during the season's first jumping tournament. Strand, the first of 71 entrants to glide down the long runway, was turned over by a strong wind and landed on his side. He suffered a brain concussion and other injuries.

Ice Speedsters Tune Up for Silver Skates

Taking advantage of the ideal weather conditions for the second annual meeting of the Illinois Skating association, Chicago racers tuned up for the Tribune's Silver Skates of Jan. 18 and 19 in the association's race program yesterday in Waveland ice rink. Vic Ronchetti (looking back) of the C. Y. O., wins the senior men's 440 yard race in :37 seconds. George Spalten (right) is second and Bob Heckenbach (left) is third. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Six entrants in the Silver Skates Derbies line up for the start of the midget girls' 220 yard race. Left to right: Mixie Ketazaki of the Northwest Skating club, Alice Mikkelsen of the Northwest Skating club, Gail Creed of Elgin, Betty Verhulst of Swift school, Phyllis Bruning of the Glen Ellyn A. C., and Joyce Schumacher of the Swift school.

Ronchetti Wins Men's Events as 400 Race in First Ice Derby

Vic Ronchetti, Tribune Silver Skates winner in 1937, captured Illinois Skating association Derby honors in Lincoln park yesterday by winning the two class A events for men, the 440 yard dash and three-quarter mile. Ronchetti represents the Catholic Youth organization.

He spurted from the starting line in the 440 to win all the way. Bob Heckenbach, Silver Skates winner of 1938, followed closely until the final turn when his stride was broken by George Spalten, Northwest Skating club star, who came fast on the inside to finish second with Heckenbach third. Ronchetti's time of 37 seconds was exceptionally fast.

Heckenbach Close Second.

In the final event at three-quarters of a mile, Heckenbach finished a close second to Ronchetti. Heckenbach set the pace until the last lap and held on well as the field went into the backstretch. With a half lap to go, Ronchetti made his move to win by two feet. Lowell Miller of the C. Y. O. was third. The time was 2 minutes 21.3 seconds.

Elaine Bogda Gordon, who won senior women's Silver Skates in 1937, led the field home in the senior girls' 440 and half mile events. Genevieve Sweirkos trailed Elaine over the line in the 440, with Bessie Laga third. The time was 46.2 seconds. Miss Sweirkos, winner of senior for two laps Silver Swates last year, set the pace in the half mile, then relinquished it to Ann Vitaska. The latter yielded to Mrs. Gordon and Miss Sweirkos at the finish line, coming in third in a close finish. The time was 1 minute 29.3 seconds.

Thompson Overtakes Saroka.

Another thrilling contest was furnished by the boys in the intermediate class. Marvin Thompson, the winner, set a sizzling pace in the final lap of the four lap event. Chet Saroka of Kenosha, Wis., who was second, had been leading until Marvin began his sprint which won by a yard. Frank Gregory of Tilden was not far behind in third position. The time of 1:34 for the 880 yards was not fast, but the last circuit was exceptionally speedy.

Loraine [Bunny] Lawler of the C. Y. O., national and North American intermediate girls' champion, encountered stiff competition from Shirley Klaris of the C. Y. O. in the girls' 220 yard dash. Miss Lawler won by three yards. Shirley Jane Burnett

THOMSON GOES BACK INTO LEAD IN COAST GOLF

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 5 (AP).—Jimmy Thomson regained the lead in the $10,000 Los Angeles open golf tournament today at the end of 54 holes, and goes into tomorrow's final round with a 1 stroke lead over Chicago's Johnny Bulla.

Thomson, the first round leader, toured the drizzle-soaked Riviera Country club course in par 71 today for 211, while Bulla, who grabbed the lead at the midway point yesterday, took 75 for 212 after getting off to a bad start with a 2 stroke penalty on the first hole. Bulla played the wrong ball—owned by his partner, Harold McSpaden—and the eventual result was enough to keep him out of the lead. Leading scores:

PURDUE BEGINS TITLE DEFENSE WITH ILLINOIS

Ohio at Michigan; Minnesota Home.

Games Tonight

Purdue at Illinois.
Ohio State at Michigan.
Wisconsin at Minnesota.
North Dakota at Iowa.
Princeton at Chicago.
Wabash at Notre Dame.
Ripon at Loyola.
Michigan State at Temple.
Drake at Washington U.
Penn [Iowa] at Macomb.
Montana State at Iowa State.
Illinois college at Millikin.
Illinois Wesleyan at Evansville [Ind.] Teachers.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Purdue's Western conference basketball champions, who have lost only one nonconference engagement this season, will open the defense of their title tonight at Illinois. It was on this same court the Boilermakers concluded the 1940 campaign with a victory, 34 to 31, that clinched the championship.

Tonight's battle, feature engagement of three Big Ten games, promises to be as close as the contest a year ago and equal in importance. Last year the Illini finally finished in a tie with Northwestern for fourth place and always regretted the illness that kept Bill Hapac, the conference's leading scorer, from competing in the opening game against Indiana, which was lost by two points.

Depends on Replacements.

Hapac has been graduated, but Purdue also has graduated valuable men. Thus tonight's test centers on the development of sophomores and other replacements.

This contest holds the spotlight because of Purdue's defense of its championship, but in the long pull it may be no more important than Wisconsin's invasion of Minnesota or the clash between Ohio State and Michigan in Ann Arbor. Both the Buckeyes and Wolverines were beaten by Princeton, which later lost to Wisconsin and then was whipped Saturday night by Northwestern, 34 to 23. The Tigers conclude their conference trip tonight at the University of Chicago.

Chicago Does Not Open.

All conference teams will see league action this week except Chicago. Indiana university, which was runner-up to Purdue last year and later won the national collegiate championship, faces Illinois Saturday night. Games this week accurately will indicate the success or failure of the Illini in 1941. The Hoosiers, incidentally, have lost only one game this season, to Southern California. Their preliminary activity included a four game Pacific coast trip finally climaxed with the conquest of Kentucky in the Sugar bowl game in New Orleans.

Northwestern also has been beaten only once this season. The Wildcats defeated Wabash, Pittsburgh, Notre Dame, and Princeton at home but were defeated by Butler in Indianapolis. The improved Northwestern five, which likely will have two sophomores as mainstays in the race, gets started in conference play Saturday evening at Ohio State.

Michigan Meets Purdue.

Illinois' ticket manager, C. E. Bowen, believes that tickets for tonight's game with Purdue will still be available at starting time, 7:30 o'clock, but he also predicts one of the largest crowds of the year.

Coach Doug Mills of Illinois believes the team will be ready for the Boilermakers after its gruelling eastern trip. The Illini defeated Notre Dame in overtime, beat Manhattan in New York, lost by one point to Temple in Philadelphia, and then were trounced by Marquette. In Illinois' other games Pittsburgh won in overtime and the Illini defeated Georgia and Kansas State.

Drish Wears Harness.

If Capt. Johnny Drish, who must wear a shoulder harness which prevents him raising his injured left arm, can play, Mills will have four veterans and a sophomore, Art Mathiesen, 6 foot 5 inch center, in the starting lineup. Drish will pair with Illinois' second high scorer of 1940, Walter Evers, at forward. Vic Wukovits and Robert Richmond are the guards. Bill Hocking is ready to substitute for Drish.

Chicago's stock soared after its victory Saturday night over Marquette, but the Maroons may find tougher going against Princeton tonight. The Tigers, however, were far off form in the first half of their game with Northwestern when the Wildcats led 25 to 10.

Stampf Expected to Lead Maroons.

Capt. Joe Stampf, Maroon free throw specialist, is expected to lead Chicago's attack at center, with Chuck Wagenberg, small but capable guard, and Edgar Nelson, sophomore forward, supplementing Stampf's efforts. Jack Fons, a tall veteran forward, and either Bob Hixson or George Krakowa at guard complete Chicago's starting lineup. Krakowa is a sophomore. Hixson, also playing his first year, is a transfer from Dartmouth.

TYGH, GAMIERE MEET TONIGHT IN MARIGOLD FIGHT

Jimmy Risks Loss of Bout with Marquart.

Jimmy Tygh, clever Philadelphia lightweight, will risk loss of a prospective bout with Billy Marquart in a 10 round contest against Mike Gamiere of Cleveland in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

Tygh, who is tentatively matched with Marquart in the big show in the Coliseum Jan. 24, suffered his only defeat of 1940 at the hands of Nick Castiglione in Chicago on Nov. 25. It was his 11th fight of the year. Of the others he won nine and scored one draw decision. Included among his victims was Eddie Lander, a young fellow who previously had held Castiglione to a deadlock in Chicago Stadium.

Defeat Called Upset.

Thus Tygh's defeat by Castiglione is regarded as an accident by Jim's backers. The 23 year old Philadelphian's showing tonight likely will decide the issue one way or the other. Gamiere, 1935 Chicagoland Golden Gloves 135 pound champion, is a terrific right hand puncher. Whether he can score with this weapon against the elusive Tygh is problematical. Mike has been exceptionally good on some occasions and just fair on others. Supporting matches:

Jimmy Pierce vs. Tito Taylor [5], 152.
Billy Pierce vs. Leif Erickson [4], 158.
Matt Milovitch vs. Andy Cansi [4], 158.
Jack Whittinghill vs. Frank McBride [4], 165.

Show in Hammond.

Joe Ghnouly will seek his second victory in Hammond in a 10 round headliner against Eddie Scott, Detroit lightweight, in Civic center there this evening. The veteran St. Louis boxer won a disputed decision over Willie Joyce in an earlier appearance. Preliminary contests:

George Dizon II. vs. Young Bill Miller [6], lightweights.
Bill Peterson vs. Claude Cooper [4], heavyweights.
Mike Sopko vs. Bobby Berger [4], welterweights.
Joe Dupont vs. Bill Reardon [4], lightweights.
Vito Rizzo vs. Tony Dante [4], junior lightweights.

The show is sponsored by Hammond post, No. 16, American Legion.

Karol Krauser and Pete Schu will be opponents in the windup bout of a wrestling card tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Other engagements:

Al Williams vs. Dizzy Davis, Paul Bozzell vs. Fred Grubmier, Jack [Bad Boy] Brown vs. Rufus Jones, Gene Bowman vs. Nick Elitch.

Conn Manager Threatens Suit to Retain Title

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 5 (AP).—Johnny Ray, manager of light heavyweight champion Billy Conn, said tonight he would sue promoters of the Mello Bettina-Anton Christoforidis bout scheduled at Cleveland, Jan. 13, "if they don't stop advertising it as a light heavyweight title match."

[The fight is recognized by the National Boxing association as being to crown a successor to Conn who, N. B. A. officials say, has relinquished the title by failing to defend it within six months and by signing for a heavyweight championship match with Joe Louis.]

"They've got no right to do that," declared Ray. "We won that title in the ring and we're ready to defend it in the ring against a worthy opponent."

President Joe Triner of the National Boxing association requested Conn last month to make a definite decision on whether he would defend his title again. Ray at that time announced "we'll tell the N. B. A. we're going to give up the title, but right now I'm not ready to tell them just when."

Tonight Ray said, "If there are no worthy opponents, we will give up the crown after Louis whips Red Burman and we are assured of a fight with him in June."

He said he had offered to defend the light heavy championship against Tommy Tucker in Chicago, but that Triner refused to sanction the match.

PROMOTER AMUSED.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5 (AP).—Bob Brickman, attorney and promoter of the Melio Bettina-Anton Christoforidis light heavyweight championship boxing match, said tonight the threat of a suit by Johnny Ray gave him "the biggest belt I've received since I broke into the boxing game. It will be a real pleasure to go to bat on it."

STAR GOLFER DIES.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 5 (AP).—Clarence W. Hackney Sr., 46, former Canadian open golf champion and winner of the New Jersey open title for four straight years, died last night of a heart ailment while visiting a brother in Morristown, N. J.

Wings Defeat Canadiens, 3-0; Tie for Lead

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 5 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings pulled up to a tie with the idle first place Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey league tonight with a 3 to 0 victory over the Montreal Canadiens. The Red Wings, in ringing up their fifth consecutive triumph before 9,672 fans, tallied twice in the opening period and, for a finishing touch, added another in the final frame.

The shutout was the second of the season for Detroit's rookie goalie, Johnny Mowers.

SPECIAL AWARD.

[High game by team out of money.]

Dean Manufacturing, K. C.	1,114	$ 50

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

The Hermann Undertakers bowling team of St. Louis last night won first prize money of $1,100 in Ray Schalk's five man sweepstakes on the Beverly Recreation alleys. The world match game champions rolled 4,197 for the high score among the 100 teams that participated in the two day event. Seventeen other teams won prizes from the $5,000 purse.

The victory brought reward to the Hermanns after five years of competition in the Schalk sweepstakes. In four other trips to the Beverly recreation event the St. Louis team was unable to finish in the money despite its excellent record, climaxed in 1938 by its capture of the match game championship. The Hermanns retained their world title a few weeks ago, winning an 18 game challenge series with the Linsz Recreation of Cleveland by 183 pins.

Monarch Beers Second.

The Hermanns won out over the Monarch Beer team of Chicago which bowled 4,179 for second place money of $700. Third prize of $500 and fourth prize, $400, went to the Pabst Blue Ribbon teams of Milwaukee and Chicago, respectively. The Milwaukee Pabsts bowled 4,092 and the Chicago Pabsts 4,039. The Koenig Braus of Chicago and the Rosenblums of Cleveland, tied for fifth and sixth with scores of 4,011, won $350 each.

The Hermanns' score sheet follows:

Gene Hermann	204	233	199	171—	807
Lowell Jackson	228	181	188	251—	848
Sam Garofolo	215	201	221	269—	906
C. O'Donnell	208	232	199	173—	812
Joe Falardi	248	180	221	185—	834
	1,063	1,033	1,021	1,080—	4,197

Genter High Individual.

Walter Genter of the Koenig Brau Beers of Chicago topped the individual scores. His games of 223, 232, 242, and 244 for a total of 941 constituted a new record in the Schalk sweepstakes. Sam Garafolo of the Hermanns, with 215, 201, 221, and 269 for a total of 906, was second high individual.

The highest score for a single game was a brilliant 299 achieved by Bill Melroy, a young bowler with the Wegner Builders of Milwaukee. He bowled 11 strikes in a row and missed out on a perfect count on the 12th when the number ten pin refused to go down.

DUNCAN WINNER OF FEATURE RACE ON MIDGET CARD

Teddy Duncan of Chicago won the 40 lap feature race of the national indoor midget auto racing program in the International amphitheater last night. Thirteen cars competed.

Starting from the pole position, by virtue of smashing the qualifying trials record with a 9:90 performance, Duncan roared the distance in 6:37.36. Ray Richards of Highland Park finished second, Wally Zale of Chicago third, Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., fourth, and Tony William of Milwaukee fifth.

Mike Poja, Marquette university sophomore basketball forward who was injured with only a minute to go in Saturday night's game with Chicago in the Midway fieldhouse, still was confined to Billings Memorial hospital yesterday with a slight brain concussion.

The Marquette trainer, Eddie Rozmarynoski, who remained with Poja, said the Hilltop athlete probably would be able to return to his home in Milwaukee tomorrow.

Notre Dame Five, Wabash Renew Rivalry Tonight

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 5 [Special].—Wabash college and Notre Dame will clash here tomorrow night, renewing one of the Irish's oldest basketball rivalries. The series started in 1908 and continued almost unbroken until 1931.

Robert E. [Pete] Vaughn, who starred in football and basketball for Notre Dame when the rivalry began, has been athletic director at the Crawfordsville, Ind., school for many years. He will attend the game.

Cy Singer, sophomore from Jasper, Ind., replaced Larry Ryan, Chicago senior, in Notre Dame's starting lineup last night, scoring 14 points to pace the Irish to a 48 to 47 victory over Kentucky in Louisville. He will again team with Bob Smith of Joliet at guard. Capt. Eddie Riska and George Sobek will be at the forwards, and Frank Quinn or Joe Gillespie, both of Indianapolis, will probably be at center.

Zale Starts Drills Today for Mamakos

Tony Zale, middleweight champion, will open boxing drills this afternoon in Trafton's gymnasium for a 10 round nontitle bout with Steve Mamakos of Washington, D. C., in Chicago Stadium Friday. At the same time Mamakos, who started workouts after his arrival on Saturday, will continue sparring sessions.

Altho he carried only 156 pounds when conquering Milt Aron in the Coliseum last Nov. 25, Mamakos said he will not be handicapped by being forced to come in over the title limit of 160 pounds. In an effort to prove this claim, Matt Twomey, Steve's manager, recalled that his protége was at 158 when he beat Georgie Abrams in Washington two years ago. The truth is that Steve weighed only 148½ on that occasion, 6¼ pounds less than Abrams.

Nevertheless, Mamakos is sure he will win the impending encounter. The fact that he made a similar prediction before the Aron victory is sufficient reason to respect his confidence in himself.

Move from New York to Chicago Wednesday.

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—Sweetness and charm will take the place of competition tomorrow night when the tennis company of Alice Marble and Don Budge opens its nationwide tour with the usual fanfare in Madison Square Garden.

Alice's first step into the professional game will be made against Ruth Mary Hardwick, the English refugee whom she beat every time they played as amateurs, while Budge's third season as a pro will find him paired opposite the 47 year old Bill Tilden.

Nevertheless the garden's capacity of about 16,000 probably will be taxed tomorrow night and the quartet hopes to do similarly well in the 50 or more other appearances booked in the United States and Canada during the

BMI OPENS DOOR TO COMPOSERS, MUSIC BODY TOLD

Feud with ASCAP Called Test of Power.

New Licensing Plan

New York, Jan. 5 (AP).—E. C. Mills, legislative chairman of the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers [ASCAP], announced tonight the society's board of directors was considering a plan to license advertisers directly to use ASCAP music on radio programs. The purpose would be to return to radio waves the music controled by ASCAP, all of which has been banned by broadcasters since Jan. 1 because of a rate dispute. Mills said agencies representing five national advertisers had asked ASCAP to license them directly and asserted that the board would vote on the question tomorrow.

Regardless of the outcome of radio's war over music, the work begun by Broadcast Music, Inc., in creating new opportunities for unknown composers will continue, M. E. Tompkins, general manager of BMI, told the Illinois Federation of Music clubs yesterday.

The controversy between BMI and the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers—known as ASCAP—which has resulted in an almost complete change of musical fare for 674 radio stations in America, is not one solely of music, Tompkins told the wemen meeting in the Chicago Woman's club. It is, he said, one of power.

Power of Small Group Cited.

The power, he said, was that which a small group of men wielded thru their control of music. He said that if ASCAP had represented all American creators of music there would have been no so-called battle of music.

"The one thing that made it possible to offer opposition to ASCAP," he continued, "is the fact that ASCAP itself closed the doors to so many talented writers.

"Radio has met the challenge of the ASCAP by opening the doors, by creating greater opportunities for American composers than ever has been known in the United States. This controversy will be ended, sooner or later, one way or another. The music written by ASCAP members again will be made available to radio stations, but the work we have started will go on."

Popular Works Held Problem.

When BMI was organized by the radio industry last April to combat what Tompkins termed ASCAP's "unsound, undemocratic, un-American" control, its great musical concern was not, he said, with the classics. They are free from copyright control except where issued in copyrighted arrangement. Nor were the modern, serious works a serious problem, as comparatively few serious composers are ASCAP members, he said. The pressing problem was popular music.

BMI was organized by two of the major broadcasting chains to form their own music pool in the fight with ASCAP.

HENRI BERGSON, PHILOSOPHER, DIES IN FRANCE

VICHY, France, Jan. 5 (AP).—Henri Bergson, foremost French philosopher and winner of the 1928 Nobel prize for literature, died in Paris yesterday of a pulmonary congestion, it was reported here today. He was 81 years old.

Henri Bergson.

Bergson, the first Jew offered exemption from a law forbidding Jews to hold educational posts in France, declined the offer and resigned as honorary professor of the College of France last month. He was proffered the exemption for his "literary and artistic services to the nation." His resignation from the college post was said to be a protest against the anti-Semitic law.

Born in Paris, Bergson's fame came quickly. At the age of 22 he was a professor of philosophy. His prominence reached its height in 1914, when he was chosen a member of the French academy.

Bergson lectured in the United States in 1913 and became a close friend of President Woodrow Wilson.

Bergson's lectures at Harvard and Columbia universities set attendance records. Nearly 200 books were written about him and his philosophy in America alone.

FLIVVER PILOTS START FLORIDA FLIGHTS TODAY

1,000 Planes to Be Used in Annual Aircade.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Signals have been posted at large airports thruout the United States warning air line, military, and school flyers to be on the watch for the nation's annual flivver plane migration to the south. The 1941 light plane flights to Florida and the Miami air races start today, and the country's amateur pilots are at the controls of the flivvers.

From Montpelier, Vt., to Big Spring, Tex., more than 1,000 of the little planes—affectionately called "puddle jumpers" by their proud owners—will push off from home fields.

The airplanes are light weight machines, most of which have motors ranging from 40 to 65 horse power. A few, aristocrats of their class, have 75 horse power engines.

Cross Section of Population.

The pilots and passengers will represent a cross section of the population. They include college students, doctors, professors, automobile mechanics, jewelers, welders, a few professional pilots on a postman's holiday, lawyers, merchants, and bankers. Many are women. All fly for the sport of it.

This is the fifth year of the aircade. It has come to be an index of the nation's interest in flying. Fifty planes and pilots were represented the first year. Last year there were 687 airplanes on the trip.

The tour—a civilian-sportsman, not a military event—is an amazing and amusing performance. There always are a few pilots who run short of fuel and make emergency landings in Georgia hog lots or Tennessee cotton patches. But in five years the amateurs have had only two fatalities.

Started by Private Flyers.

The aircade was started in the Christmas season of 1935-1936 by a group of private flyers.

After the first year an oil company supplied fuel and oil for the participants and manufacturers of light planes fixed the routes, organized the various flights, and trained flight leaders.

In order to prevent the migration from interfering with military air training programs in the southeast, the army asked that the mass flying of the last two years be discontinued. Instead of flying in large groups the flivver pilots will go in groups of two or three.

Ships from the midwest will go via Indianapolis, Ind., Louisville, Ky., Nashville, and Chattanooga, Tenn., Atlanta, Albany, and Valdosta, Ga., and St. Petersburg and Orlando on the western coast of Florida. Then they will cross the Everglades to West Palm Beach and Miami.

One or more planes from virtually each of Chicagoland's 32 flying fields will be in the aircade.

Orders and preliminary commitments from the government for $7,602,494 of supplies were received last week by companies in the Chicago industrial area. In addition, disclosure was made that Studebaker corporation, automobile manufacturer, would build in Chicago a plant for production of warplane engine parts. The exact cost of the plant was not made known, but it will be many million dollars.

The largest of the supply and material contracts, which was still in the "letter of intent" stage, covered $5,500,000 of naval antiaircraft gun mounts to be built by Danly Machine Specialties, Inc., of Cicero. The company announced that the navy had authorized it to expand its plant at a cost of $1,750,000 in connection with the order.

CATCHING UP.

In the dividend reports recently there was a notice that Consolidated Machine Tool corporation was making a large payment on its preferred stock. Is its business picking up? —R. M.

Answer: Consolidated Machine Tool corporation, Rochester, N. Y., has experienced a decided upturn in orders, partly attributed to the national defense program. The trend of earnings in 1940, however, has not been indicated because the company did not issue interim reports and the annual statement is not yet available.

The company's earnings record in recent years follows:

	Net sales.	Net income.
1936	$1,353,107	$ 10,359
1937	1,891,086	86,526
1938	2,400,914	165,882
1939	2,442,972	209,349

Capitalization of the company consists of 20,937 shares of $6 first preferred stock, 20,937 shares of second preferred, 8,911 shares of Class A stock, and 21,354 shares of common stock, all of no par value.

An initial dividend of $1.50 a share on the first preferred stock was paid Dec. 22, 1939. Payments on the stock were omitted until last Dec. 20, when $4.50 a share was paid on arrears.

A payment of $1.50 a share was made January 2 and $4 a share will be paid February 21 to holders of record Feb. 19. No dividend has been paid on the other stock issues.

Consolidated Machine Tool was formed in 1935 in the reorganization of a company of a similar name, which was organized in 1922 as a consolidation of five old established machine tool enterprises. The present concern manufactures a wide variety of heavy machine tools, including lathes, drills, planers, and milling machinery.

Total assets at the close of 1940 were $772,864,193, compared with $712,972,715 on Sept. 30. Capital, surplus and undivided profits amounted to $40,314,489, against $40,000,000 three months before.

Union Wants to Teach Boss His Business

New York, Jan. 5 [Special].—The powerful dress joint board of the also powerful Internaational Ladies' Garment Workers union [A. F. of L.] wants to teach the bosses how to run their businesses—and wants the bosses to be penalized if they fall down on the job.

The proposal, amounting to a polite demand, was put to five large employers' associations by Julius Hochman, general manager of the dress joint board. Requiring, in essence, that the boss be equal to his job, as the workers see it, the proposal contained a revelation that the workers would be happy to establish a training school for bosses and to keep them up to date on how to eliminate "outmoded" production practices.

Contracts Expire Soon.

The present agreement between the union and the five employer organizations expires on Jan. 31. The proposal was presented as the nub of contention contingent upon renewing existing contracts, and was given emphasis by the fact that the union has presented no demands for changes in wages or hours.

Hochman's formula was based, he said, on the principle that workers in a dress factory "have the right to demand efficient management."

In a conference with the manufacturers' representatives he contended that the earnings of workers paid on a piece work basis were kept low by faulty plant organization, inadequate equipment, and other manifestations of what was termed lax management. After diagnosing the industry's ailments he submitted the "teach the bosses" prescription as the union's remedy.

Right to File Charges.

Inclusion in the new contract of a clause giving union members the right to file charges with the dress industry's mediator against employers they deemed "inefficient" would be demanded, Hochman advised the conference. Such provision would cover 85,000 unionized dressmakers.

The manufacture of dresses is New York's largest single industry, having an annual volume of about $350,000,000. The mediator, to whom any complaints of management inefficiency would be put, is James J. [Jimmy] Walker, former New York mayor, who resigned his office under the fire of official investigation.

Walker was appointed to the $20,000 a year post by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia at the height of the last Presidential campaign, when the mayor was accused of currying political favor and votes from Tammany hall, previously a target of his vitriolic blasts, when he took up vigorous campaigning for President Roosevelt.

Clinic of "Experts."

Hochman explained that the union's training school for bosses would be a sort of clinic at which "experts" in various specialized fields would tell the employers how to organize their businesses along more effielent lines.

The five employer associations present at the conference were the Affiliated Dress Manufacturers, the National Dress Manufacturers, the Popular-Priced Dress group, the United Popular Dress Manufacturers, and the United Better Dress Manufacturers.

METAL UNIONS OFFER PLAN TO AVOID STRIKES

Seek Arbitration of All Disputes.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The metal trades division of the American Federation of Labor today pledged itself to call no strikes in defense industries if employers agree to arbitrate all disputes without stoppage of work.

John Frey.

Involves 850,000 Members.

John Frey, president of the division, told a press conference the total membership of the 13 unions was more than 850,000, but that he could not estimate how many were employed on defense jobs.

Under the "no strike" program, Frey said the metal division would "carry out a long time policy to have all departments of the metal trades negotiate one agreement in an area for one industry." For example, he said, single agreements would be sought for each of the four major ship building regions—the Pacific coast, Great Lakes, Gulf of Mexico, and Atlantic coast. These, he said, would be sought first.

As stated by the union leaders the plan would provide:

"Without loss of time those who produce for national defense—management and labor—meet at the conference table for the purpose of negotiating working rules agreements, the intent and effect of which will be to unify and stabilize industiral relations, and the terms of employment in such districts.

"No Stoppage of Work."

"Such agreements must contain provision for voluntary arbitration, and that there shall be no stoppage of work. The entering into of such agreements are the guarantee that there will be neither strikes nor lockouts.

"Thoro-going coöperation must be established between management and labor thru direct contact between their chosen representatives.

"Where their efforts fail to bring adjustment of questions which may arise, the services of the division of conciliation, department of labor, must be speedily secured. Should this conciliation not establish prompt results, then arbitration must be applied."

CHICAGO'S RAIL SERVICE MUCH IMPROVED IN '40

C. J. Whipple, transportation vice president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said yesterday that Chicago's position as the railroad capital was emphasized again in 1940 by far reaching expansion in its freight service. He said important reductions in transit time and several additions to the far flung package car system have given Chicago shippers marked advantages, and have emphasized Chicago's ability to function as the leading distribution point under the national defense.

Whipple said that during the year 22 Chicago railroads loaded an average of 1,663 merchandise cars a day. These cars provided direct service to 714 of the nation's largest cities.

STOCKS OF INDUSTRIAL JEWELS ARE REPORTED SUFFICIENT FOR YEAR

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The bureau of mines said today that this country had enough industrial jewels for one year of national defense needs. Imports of diamonds, rubies, sapphires, and amethysts for precision instruments, it said, increased from 44,000,000 stones in 1939 to more than 80,000,000 in 1940.

R. R. Sayres, bureau director, said that imports, plus stocks on hand, plus anticipated imports would, "with proper conservation," give the United States "a year's supply of such stones for national defense purposes."

The report said many jewels had been imported from Switzerland.

PARLEY ON WOOL ADVANCE TO BE HELD TOMORROW

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 [Special].—Representative members of the wool manufacturers' industry have been summoned to Washington for a conference Tuesday with Leon Henderson, member of the National Defense Advisory commission, about the recent sharp rise in prices of woolen goods.

According to a defense commission statement buyers of woolen goods have complained of advanced prices on fall lines and of high pressure sales methods by some sellers which tend to create an unnecessary rush to cover requirements at higher prices.

REPORT HEAVY ORDERS LIMIT STEEL OFFERS

Wide Plates, Bars, Sheets Sold Far Ahead.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5 (AP).—Some steel companies are virtually out of the market due to their heavy backlog of orders, but the majority are still placing orders on books—for delivery when material is available, the magazine Steel said today.

"On several products, particularly wide plates, bars and sheets, producers are virtually sold out for first quarter," the review said. "An independent maker of flat rolled steel formally withdrew from the market on all his products for first quarter.

Orders Unexpectedly Brisk.

"Placing of steel orders both immediately before and after the two holidays was exceedingly and unexpectedly brisk and widely diversified. For many makers and products December shipments exceeded November. Shipments of plates, bars, and merchant pipe may have been the largest for any month for all time."

Looking ahead to 1941 expectations, the review forecast:

"Wide plates may be the scarcest finished steel item, partly because of extensive loss of ships. Bars seem destined to be continually brisk due to diverse uses. Shapes will continue active since the defense building program is by no means completed."

Week's Production Rises.

Ingot production last week recovered 15½ points to 95½ per cent of theoretical capacity. New England district lost 5 points to 85 but all other districts showed gains: Pittsburgh 20½ to 95½, Chicago 20 to 99½, Youngstown 14 to 92, Weeling 20 to 96, Cleveland 12 to 84, Buffalo 15 to 93, Birmingham 16 to 100, Cincinnati 14 to 87, St. Louis 8 to 87½, Detroit 14 to 90, and eastern Pennsylvania 13 to 95.

SMALL PLANTS POOL FACILITIES FOR ARMS WORK

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—Defense commission officials said tonight that owners of small plants in many communities were preparing to pool their facilities to obtain subcontracts from shipbuilders, airplane makers, and other contractors in the national defense program.

The commission is encouraging this activity to promote the "farming out" of contracts for small parts in a program similar to that undertaken by Great Britain to speed the manufacture of armaments. In England, it was said, even a hosiery mill makes airplane parts.

Employes of Budd Wheel Get Pay Boost and Bonus

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 5 (AP).—A contract calling for approximately $400,000 in wage increases and vacation bonuses for 6,000 employés of the Budd Wheel company and the Budd Manufacturing company was approved today by the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers' union. The contract, effective as of Jan. 1 to Jan. 1, 1942, provides for wage boosts of three to eight cents an hour and two per cent bonus, to be paid in May to all employés, on total earnings of the two firms for 1940.

5,110,000 Without Jobs of Any Kind Last March

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—The census bureau estimated today that 5,110,000 persons were without jobs of any kind and looking for work last March. The figure was obtained by using a 5 per cent cross-section of the population enumerated in each of the 154,000 census districts last April. The bureau said that some variation could be expected in a final tabulation.

Licensing Plan Slashes Japan's Metal Purchases

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5 (AP).—Japan, previously a substantial purchaser of scrap metal for her war industries, got only 25 tons from the United States during November, the first full month that exports were subject to licensing. In announcing these figures today the commerce department said that exports fell off about 70 per cent during the month.
